23 Missing in Three Coastal Plane Crashes

Pilot of Plane to Kemano Swims To Safety; Body, Mail Bag Found

VANCOUVER (CP)—Twenty-three persons may have died in a series of plane crashes in British Columbia and the adjacent State of Washington.

Three planes have been reported missing in a 24-hour period starting Tuesday. Wilderness and sea have surrendered proof of one death and 22 persons are unaccounted for. One is known to have survived.

James Siddle, a 38-year-old bush pilot, flying a Grumman to Kemano, Wednesday, made a successful forced landing in the Pacific Ocean, just 200 yards from the northern B.C. coast. With his six passengers, the pilot struck out for shore, but only he is known to have reached safety. Search parties have found one body and a sack of mail.

Aboard the Grumman were: Frank Carlisle and Bob Watson, officials of the Plumbers and Steamfitters' Union; Paul Kuehner, Michael Fedyk, E. A. Copley, Gustav Olsen.

Still unreported are an RCAF Dakota carrying seven men and

NEW SESSION BREAKS OLD PROCEDURES

The Social Credit government will depart from tradition in its choice of a mover and seconder to the Speech from the Throne at this year's Legislature session.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today Education Minister Mrs. Tilly Rolston, "the first and only full-fledged woman cabinet minister in Canada," will move the address in reply to the Throne Speech to be delivered Tuesday by Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace.

Seconder will be Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan, he said.

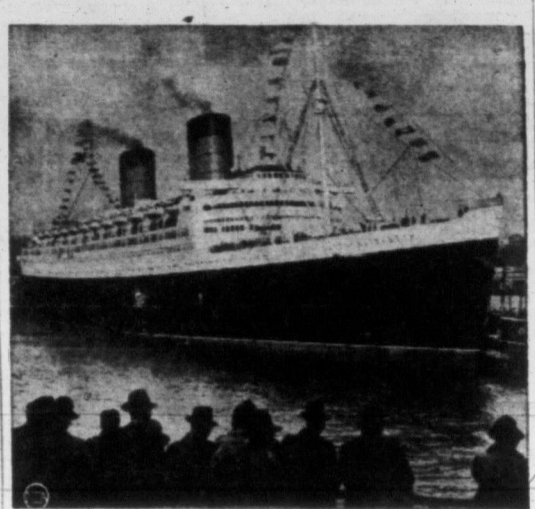

Asked if this was an unusual procedure, the premier replied: "This is an unusual government, and it will be an unusual session."

Usual practice is for private members to be chosen as mover and seconder.

These two speeches, made the day after the Throne Speech, are significant because they indicate government policy.

Second Fire Breaks Out On Ss Queen Elizabeth

Blaze Controlled While First Outbreak Probed

Ocean Queen Drydocked Here

Britain's biggest liner is remembered by many Victorians from her drydocking visit here in December, 1944, while she was troop-carrying in the Pacific war theatre. When she was drydocked here, the Elizabeth practically filled the Esquimalt graving basin, one of the largest in the world. She had to wait for a high spring tide and dead calm before she could attempt drydock entry. As it was she parted heavy hausers like strings as she was warped through the gates. Such is her displacement that little water was left in the drydock when the gates were closed and pumping commenced.

From CP and UP Dispatches

A second fire broke out aboard the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth today and firemen investigating the first blaze moved quickly to bring it under control.

The new blaze broke out in rags and other materials in a cabin on C-deck on the port side. There was no immediate explanation of the source of the fire.

The alarm bells clanged through the big liner. Fire crews put the blaze out after a table in the cabin was damaged.

Investigations by Scotland Yard already concerned with Wednesday's mysterious blaze were promptly intensified. Sabotage is suspected.

All workmen going ashore are being asked by police if they had been on C-deck and whether they had noticed anything suspicious.

Workmen are under orders not to smoke aboard ship.

Meanwhile, Southampton's chief constable Charles Box, investigating the Wednesday fire said: "It might have been accidental, it might have been wilful."

Reporting the fire, the British press suggested sabotage.

WHEAT MEN WOULD BOOST HOME PRICE

Claim Canadian Market Subsidized

Canadian farmers at the annual convention of the Federation of Agriculture here do not think they are getting a fair price for their domestic milling wheat.

In a resolution passed today the farm delegates urged the federal government to tie the price of milling wheat to the cost of production.

Under the present system wheat for home consumption is tied to the international wheat agreement. The price is set and cannot be raised.

The proposed set-up would permit the price of milling wheat to rise above present levels. This might eventually lead to consumers paying a higher price for bread.

Hon. C. D. Howe has gone on record that he will oppose any move by Canadian wheat growers which might lead to Canadian consumers paying more for bread.

"Mr. Howe does not seem to understand that we are in fact subsidizing the Canadian consumer," said one wheat grower. "That is poor business for us. I don't think anyone would like to operate a business on that basis."

U.S. Plane Lost Over Puget Sound

Meanwhile in Seattle search continued today for a US Navy P-47 patrol plane which vanished Wednesday over the Puget Sound country of Western Washington while on a flight from Alameda, Calif., to Whidbey Island naval air station.

Aboard the plane was Capt. Julian D. Greer, commander of Fleet Air Wing 6, stationed at the Alameda naval air station.

The plane was last heard from at 12:48 p.m. Wednesday when it received clearance for an instrument landing at Whidbey. The pilot gave his altitude then as 5,000 feet and his location as over McChord air force base, 35 miles south of here.

The public information office at Alameda said Capt. Greer, a veteran navy aviator, was en route to Whidbey on a special mission. The nature of the mission was not disclosed.

Siddle, pilot of the Grumman, was found and taken to hospital at the northern B.C. fishing village of Butedale 20 hours after he brought down his Central British Columbia Airways amphibian in a heavy storm.

The pilot was flying two union officials and four workers to the Aluminum Company of Canada plant at Kemano.

He said the plane slashed into a submerged log but remained afloat for 2 1/2 hours. When the craft began to sink, all seven donned lifebelts and struck out for shore.

Another CBCA pilot sighted Siddle after he crawled ashore at Fraser Reach, 270 miles north of Vancouver. There was no sign of his passengers.

Disappearance of the two military planes brings to 12 the number of military aircraft missing or known to have crashed in a recent series of aerial disasters along the North Pacific rim.

A total of 298 persons were killed or are missing in the 10 previous mishaps. The most re-

Quebec House In Uproar at Election Act

QUEBEC (CP)—The legislative assembly was thrown into an uproar Wednesday night during debate on the Quebec Election Act when a Liberal speaker said he feared proposed amendments would lead to "bloodshed" at the next election. The bill later received approval in principle.

Another Liberal member was expelled from the chamber for the remainder of the evening sitting when he was "named" by the Speaker for making remarks from his seat while the Speaker was making a ruling.

The ejected member was Emile Lafrance, member for Richmond, and it was Rene Hamel, member for St. Maurice, who made the "bloodshed" statement that stirred the chamber.

Mr. Hamel said he hoped no such thing would happen but if electors realize they are being "tricked" and all legal means have been used to force illegality then there would be no other recourse but the "use of violence."

Premier Duplessis shouted from his seat that the statement was "bolshhevistic."

Railways, Union Meeting Again To Avert Strike

Disputants Respond To Cabinet's Plea

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent today declined to tell the Commons whether the government is considering use of its emergency powers to halt a Monday rail strike if company-union negotiations fail.

SENDER OF TRACT ON JEWRY NAMED

Duncan Mayor Says Pamphleteer Prominent Member of Sacred Party

DUNCAN—Mayor J. C. Wragg has named "Col. Codville" as the man responsible for sending an anti-Semitic pamphlet to members of the British House of Commons that caused an uproar in the House and drew the ire of Home Secretary David Fyfe.

Speculative Fever Cools Slightly

TORONTO (CP)—Speculative fever on the stock market cooled slightly today, but trading was still far from normal.

Volume at the close stood at 10,122,000 shares, compared with Wednesday's total of 12,264,000 shares. Trading today was rapid but not record-breaking.

U.S. Chiefs Talk Foreign Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower assembled his top military, foreign affairs and intelligence officers today for a full-dress review of the foreign situation and a discussion of cold war strategy.

There were indications that both western Europe and the Far East would be discussed.

Secretary of State Dulles and Harold Stassen leave tomorrow for a 10-day tour of western Europe. Their itinerary calls for meetings in Italy, France, Britain, western Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

BELIEVE IN YOURSELF

'Prayer Power' Is Great Aid

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE, DD

This is a chapter of the best-selling book, "The Power of Positive Thinking," by Dr. W. P. Peale. Success stories are published in The Times daily.

In a business office high above the city streets two men were having a serious conversation. One, heavily troubled by a business and personal crisis, paced the floor restlessly; then sat dejectedly, head in hand, a picture of despair. He had come to the other for advice, since he was considered a man of great understanding. Together they had explored the problem from every angle but seemingly without result, which only served to deepen the troubled man's discouragement. "I guess no power on earth can save me," he sighed.

The other reflected for a moment, then spoke rather diffidently. "I wouldn't look at it that way. I believe you are wrong in saying there is no power that can save you. Personally, I have found that there is an answer to every problem. There is a power that can help you." Then slowly he asked, "Why not try prayer power?"

Somewhat surprised, the discouraged man said, "Of course I believe in prayer, but perhaps I do not know how to pray. You speak of it as something practical that fits a business problem. I never thought of it that way but I'm willing to try prayer if you will show me how."

He did apply practical prayer technique and in due course got his answer. That is not to say he did not have difficulties. In fact, he had rather a hard time of it but ultimately he worked out of this trouble. Now he believes in prayer power so enthusiastically that I recently heard him say, "Every problem can be solved and solved right if you pray."

Then there was the young married woman who admitted she was filled with hates, jealousy, and resentment toward neighbors and friends. She was also very apprehensive, always

Currie Fireworks To Be Delayed

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons defense expenditures committee agreed unanimously today to concentrate on the less-controversial sections of the Currie report. In its study of the 79-page document, it decided to skip Section One, the section whose general statements have provoked the hottest debate in the Commons.

The members decided to call George S. Currie, the accountant who signed the report, on Tuesday.

Anti-Semitic Move Not SC Says Bennett

The anti-Semitic pamphlet of Duncan, origin, which created a furore in the British House of Commons, is "not a Social Credit pamphlet in any way, shape or form," Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today.

He made the statement when asked for comment on the fact that the author of the pamphlet, entitled "Plans of the Synagogue of Satan," had been identified as a member of the Cowichan-Newcastle SC Association.

RAIN QUEEN'S CROWN BACK IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver has snatched back the wet weather crown Victoria wore for a day, proclaiming itself the rainier of the two cities.

Its claim was based on the report that more rain had fallen here in January than in the mainland city.

"You exceeded our airport rain total," snarled the Vancouver city hall, settling the crown on its rain-furrowed brow, "but not the downtown rainfall."

How true. Totals to 10 a.m. today show Victoria's rain for January to be 9.94 inches; Vancouver airport, 8.48 inches; Vancouver downtown, 12.92 inches.

Cloudy skies and more showers are predicted for Victoria tonight and Friday, with temperatures of from 42 to 47 degrees and light westerly winds.

Bad Canadian Wheat in U.S. Senator Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate agricultural committee heard testimony today that huge quantities of imported Canadian wheat labelled "unfit for human consumption" are being milled into flour in the United States to compete with high-grade U.S. wheat.

The testimony came from Frank Weitzel, assistant to the comptroller general, who was called to the hearing of accusations that the influx of Canadian wheat has depressed U.S. prices.

Chairman Weitzel estimated that 40,000,000 bushels of frost damaged wheat were imported in 1952.

Israel Leftists Expel Reds

JERUSALEM (AP)—The council of the leftist Mapam party Wednesday night expelled three leaders of a faction proposing an outright alliance with Israel's Communist party. The expulsion vote was 228 to 22.

The party split started with Communist attacks on Zionism in the Czechoslovakian and Soviet purge actions.

British African Protectorates Charged With Slave-Trading

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—Britain is looking into charges that her African protectorates are shipping at least 5,000 negroes each month for sale in the slave markets of Saudi Arabia and Yemen.

The British government does not think the charges are true, but it has begun an investigation. The inquiry is complicated by the fact that slave markets are legal in Saudi Arabia and Yemen and neither country so far has revealed its sources of supply.

Both countries, the UN's anti-slavery section said today, have ignored questionnaires sent them on slavery and forced labor.

Britain's UN delegation also revealed, in answer to a query from the UN, that slavery still is legal in the oil-rich sheikdom of Kuwait, on the northwest coast of the Persian Gulf, but that actual buying and selling of slaves now is prohibited there. Kuwait is under British protection.

Saudi Arabia, Yemen and Kuwait all are Moslem countries and Moslem law permits slavery and slave trading.

The charges of large-scale slave traffic between Britain's African possessions and the Arabian kingdoms originated with Jacques Alain who described himself in a communication to the UN commission on human rights as a French explorer living in North Africa.

Both British authorities and UN officials said they knew nothing about Alain.

Alain said the slave trade worked like this:

Armed, whip-swinging raiders swoop down on native villages isolated around the fringes of the Sahara and in the central African jungles. Those captured are chained together and marched by secret trails to hidden "slave coves" on the Red Sea where they are loaded on rickety ships and taken to Saudi Arabia for distribution.

ROUND TOM'S SQUARE DIET

Tom and Bill to Dine and Swill Before Testing Reluctant Will

BY TOM MERRIMAN

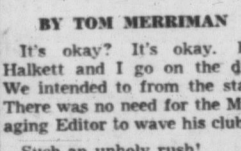

It's okay? It's okay. Bill Halkett and I go on the diet. We intended to from the start. There was no need for the Managing Editor to wave his club.

Such an unholy rush! Wage negotiations can run on for weeks, but when he gets an irritating idea to make guinea pigs out of someone, it's a case of pronto, tout de suite, "I mean now, get going."

All that happened was Photographer Bill said "Sure, Merriman, I'll go for it again but stall for a day, a couple of days if you can. Let's lay the foundation with a few more unrestricted satisfying flings at the meal table so we can face the next ten days with courage, fortitude and resignation."

Halkett always talks unctuously under the strain of deep emotion.

"Even a man sentenced to the gallows is given the choice of his last meal before they spring the trap," he added, a trifle morbidly don't you think.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

GADGETS AND GIMMICKS

A FRIEND WHO came back from Seattle the other day brought me a gift of one of those little kitchen gimmicks in which our neighbors to the south specialize. You plug in a little cage-like apparatus, containing a green tablet, into an electrical outlet and the resultant pine perfume is supposed to offset the more pungent odors of cooking onions, stale smoke and what-have-you.

But, like so many other gadgets, it doesn't do all that is claimed for it, as the smell of a savory stew which I am at present cooking certainly dominates the atmosphere to the exclusion of pine-laden fragrance.

QUEER NOTIONS

I have always marvelled at the inventive genius who can think up the most fantastic idea and put it into material form. The multiplicity of gadgets and gimmicks that are always being put out in the guise of labor-saving devices intrigue me.

So much so that I can't resist the temptation to try them. I am like De Quincey's angler, plagued by "ceaseless expectation and perpetual disappointment" when it comes to kitchen gimmicks. I buy some elaborate little machine that is supposed to cut, shred, sole and heel vegetables, mess around with it once or twice, then go back to my own ancient, worn-down little knife that performs miracles.

LUNATIC FRINGE

Speaking of inventions, I am reminded that the Patent Office of Great Britain celebrated its centenary recently, and in reviewing its history, dug up some of the queer notions that have come within its purview during the last 100 years.

Among the inventions that can be classed as on the lunatic fringe was the "pair of reversible trousers cut alike behind and in front to minimize wear." In theory that sounds as if somebody was tired of seeing shiny seats. But it doesn't explain how, when the seat got to the patching stage, the wearer managed to sit on his own lap, so to speak.

FOR CRAYFISH

Somewhere in the mid-Victorian era a German came up with an idea that sounds like something the comedian Ed Wynn might have evolved. It was a "pair of waterproof wristbands designed to intercept the moisture running down the hands and wrists while eating crayfish." That should be adaptable to the consumption of oranges and watermelon, too.

Heath Robinson, the late cartoonist of Punch fame, could have dreamed up the idea of a vacuum cleaner submitted to the Patent Office a few decades ago. The cleaner was attached to a rocking chair which "suctions the suction bellows connected to the pipe which the wife applies to the carpet." I bet it was a man who invented that!

WOMAN'S IDEA

Equally fascinating was the aluminum bib which someone invented, complete with a trough to catch the bits of food that slide down its smooth surface, and the bell-ringing device designed to combat snoring. Whether the latter worked or not isn't indicated; but some poor wife probably dreamed it up after a sleepless night.

There is something very simple about the "invention" of a woman from Brigsteed, Leeds, who about 60 years ago sent to the Patent Office her idea for the preservation of flowers. It was "to iron the ferns with a hot iron while in their natural state."

FOR COUNTING DRINKS

And one inventor of the early 1900's must have had precedence of the current liquor situation in British Columbia when he patented this:

"A pocket abacus, which with its unobtrusive framework of beads on wires enables moderate drinkers who wish to avoid the effects of intoxication to count their drinks with one hand in their pocket and thus obtain a correct tally of how much they have imbibed without the embarrassment of having to ask their companions for precise details as to the intake."

Eisenhower's Visit to Korea Will Bring Good—Churchill

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)—British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, home from a visit to America, said today "nothing but good" could follow President Eisenhower's recent visit to the Korean front.

Churchill, at a press conference in Southampton just before he left for London, was asked if any useful and positive results were likely from Mr. Eisenhower's Korean visit.

"They're asking that question in America," Churchill said. "I am sure nothing but good could follow because he saw things for himself on the spot."

He said his American talks with President Eisenhower, before he was inaugurated, and with other American leaders were "informal, private and confidential."

The 78-year-old Prime Minister arrived in Southampton Wednesday night on the Queen Mary. He spent the night aboard the ship and then held a press conference before leaving for London.

Mayhew Hopes to See Japanese in UN

Says Canada Would Welcome Nipponese Co-operation in Circle of Allied Nations

TOKYO (AP)—Robert W. Mayhew, Canadian ambassador to Japan, said today Canada hopes Japan's application for entry into the United Nations "will not be held up much longer by Soviet veto."

Mayhew told the first postwar luncheon meeting of the Canada-Japan Society.

"This United Nations is not a perfect organization. But it is man's best hope for the peaceful co-existence of nations. And for that reason, the United Nations remains the first plank of Canada's foreign policy. We welcome Japan's co-operation with the United Nations and hope that her application for membership will not be held up much longer by Soviet veto."

Mayhew, first postwar Canadian ambassador to Japan, spoke to about 100 Canadian and Japanese members of the society. The group, disrupted by the Second World War, reorganized last month with the objective of promoting friendly relations.

AMBASSADOR WELCOMED Iyemasa Tokugawa, president of the society, welcomed the new ambassador and his wife. Tokugawa was Japanese minister to Canada prior to the war.

Mayhew noted that nearly 20,000 Canadian volunteers have fought in Korea since the war began.

"I pray," the ambassador said, "that the mission in which the United Nations is engaged in Korea will materially assist in the re-establishment of conditions of peace and security in this area which are of such fundamental importance to Japan and Canada and the other free nations."

Mayhew outlined various negotiations between Canada and Japan which are furthering economic relations. He cited: An agreement to promote conservation of fishery resources in the North Pacific, work toward a bilateral civil aviation agreement which "will put air travel between Japan and Canada on a firm basis," and trade talks now under way at Ottawa to put trading relations between the two countries "on a permanent orderly basis."

Brazil, the largest state in South America, has an Atlantic coastline stretching 4,600 miles.

Sends Money to Reds So Fined $35,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Min San Trading Company was fined $35,000 Wednesday for sending money to Red China. It was the first conviction in this district for violation of the act forbidding trade with an enemy. Assistant U.S. Attorney Robert Drewes said the company sent $161,848 to China between January and November, 1951. Some of the money was forwarded by Chinese here to relatives behind the Bamboo Curtain.

Non-Support Charge Faces Currie Suspect

TORONTO (BUP)—Fredrick Hensler, who allegedly stole the explosive Currie report, is scheduled to arrive in Toronto today to face a charge of non-support at least two years old.

Hensler will be flown from Montreal—where he is being held—by two York County policemen who left Toronto Wednesday night.

York Police Chief W. M. Shadwick said details of this latest move could not be revealed until Hensler arrived.

He is wanted by the Family Relations Court for skipping out on his family, the police chief said, but would not say who pressed the charge.

Shadwick says tentative plans call for Hensler to face the non-support count in Toronto before he is turned over to the RCMP on the theft charge he said.

Liberal Conference Delegates Selected

Delegates to attend the B.C. Liberal convention in Vancouver Feb. 27 and 28 were named by wards one and three of the Liberal Association of Saanich Wednesday night.

Selected to attend the provincial party were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hobbs, W. Brugg, Mrs. E. T. Lea and Mrs. J. McGee.

Mrs. Arthur Ash was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization, succeeding Mrs. A. O. Johns, who resigned because of ill health.

East's East, B.C. Is West; Between's Just Prairies

Where does Canada's west begin? W. Taylor, Saanich dairy farmer, told the annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture here Wednesday British Columbia did not look upon the prairie provinces as being situated in the west.

"We refer to the three provinces as the prairies," said Mr. Taylor. "We believe we are the only one in the west."

However, there still seems to be some confusion among delegates as to where the west begins.

Prairie delegates are still referring to their provinces as "the west."

British Columbia farmers still allude to their neighbors as prairie people.

No one at the convention, however, seems to be confused as to where the east begins in Canada. It is described as starting somewhere east of Manitoba.

Victoria Man Begins Sentence in Japan

HONG KONG (AP)—British spokesmen said today Canada has not yet asked for government intervention in behalf of two of her sailors, imprisoned here last week for attempted sale of a pistol to a rickshaw puller.

But Canadian and Hong Kong officials said while no formal petition has been received, "discussions have been held."

A Tokyo report said Canada wanted the two sailors, Norman Robin, 26, of Victoria, and Steve Hiasney, 19, Drumheller, Alta., turned over to the Canadian Navy for punishment.

Both sailors were found guilty of illegal possession of a 45-calibre pistol. They were sentenced to 18 months in prison, but in Hiasney's case, the term was reduced to a year because it was not his gun.

The two men have appealed their convictions. No hearing date has been set. Meantime, they have been removed to prison to begin serving their sentences.

If the case remained in the jurisdiction of Hong Kong's civil courts, it is believed Canada's current negotiations with the Japanese government might be endangered. Canada wants her servicemen in Japan exempt from the civil courts and subject only to her own court martial proceedings.

The Canadian negotiations in Japan somewhat parallel the British government's fight last summer to retain rights over two of her sailors, jailed by a civil court in Osaka after holding up a local taxi driver.

The Canadian high commissioner here and the foreign office said that should a petition be filed it would be sent by the British embassy in Tokyo, where the request apparently originated, to London. Then it would be passed on to Hong Kong.

Protestant Lay Preacher Reported Slain in Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—The Evangelical Confederation of Colombia has reported the murder of a Protestant lay preacher and the dynamiting of a Presbyterian chapel among 23 cases of persecution it said occurred in Colombia during the two-month period ending Dec. 31, 1952.

The confederation, which frequently has accused both government officials, priests and civilians of this predominantly-Roman Catholic country of persecuting Protestants, listed 150 such cases during the last year.

The report also said the governor of Magdalena department upheld a decree issued by the mayor and priest of El Blanco prohibiting the holding of Protestant services by three Canadian missionaries — Mary Fulton of New Westminster, B.C.; Nancy Penner of Acme, Alta., and Stella Sherstian of Edmonton.

CANTON, N.Y. (UP)—The U.S. Steel Corporation has bought 287 acres of land near Pyrites, where large deposits of copper pyrites have been reported. The land is in the foothills of the Adirondacks.

Canada's One Year Accident Toll Eight Times Her War Casualties

The number of Canadians killed and injured by accident in one year represents eight times the combined casualties of the Canadian services throughout the entire six years of the Second World War.

When figures have been compiled to the end of 1952, they will show that more than 10,000 persons have met violent deaths in Canada during the year, and over 800,000 more have been maimed or injured by accidents.

These figures were presented to Victoria Rotary Club today by E. L. Guertin, Winnipeg, the CPR's supervisor of safety, loss and damage prevention.

"Safety must be carried into our homes. It must be practiced in industry, on our streets and highways," he said. "We must think, practice and teach safety."

"This is a challenge to you and I as individuals; to organizations like Rotary."

Mr. Guertin pointed out that the provincial compensation boards paid out over $89,000,000 for 500,000 accidents reported in industry, and in addition injured workers lost more than $25,000,000 in salaries not recoverable through compensation.

"No executive worth his salt would look the other way if material or company resources were being pilfered," he said. "How strange that far greater resources are permitted to be lost in the form of time, spoilage, money and suffering in a ghastly parade of accidents."

Mr. Guertin outlined the major causes of accidents, not only in industry, but in homes, on streets, on farms. "We cannot make a person safety-minded at work unless he is also safety-minded when off duty," he said.

$886,000 Voted For City Works

Federal Funds Earmarked Include Cash for Harbor, Customs Building

Greater Victoria's share of the new public works budget tabled in the Commons Wednesday amounts to $886,000.

The government has provided $355,000 for alterations and improvements to public buildings, another $315,000 for harbor dredging and wharf improvements in Victoria, and $216,000 for wharf repairs in Esquimalt.

The budget calls for a revote of $100,000 to add to and alter the old post office building on Government Street for use as a customs house.

Alterations and improvements to the Belmont Building, located just across the street from the old post office, will cost an estimated $150,000, of which $90,000 will be a revote.

New mail-handling equipment for the new post office will cost $60,000, and addition to the office building at the Astrophysical Observatory atop Little Saanich Mountain will require a revote of $45,000.

Resources Parley Scheduled Here Late Next Month

"Today and tomorrow in resource development" will be the theme of the sixth British Columbia Natural Resources Conference at the Empress Hotel Feb. 25, 26 and 27.

The conference, an organization representing industry, university and government, will hear addresses by an array of experts in their respective fields and see several movie shorts on natural resources.

Conference president is Dr. D. B. Turner, director of conservation in the provincial government. Speakers include J. H. Steede, executive assistant to the vice-president and chief engineer, B.C. Electric Railway, Vancouver; E. G. Oldham, forester in charge of parks and recreational division, B.C. Forest Service; R. L. Haig-Brown, author and magistrate, Campbell River; P. R. Purcell, executive assistant, Dominion-Provincial Board, Fraser River Basin, Victoria, and Reginald Bowring, director, division of public health engineering, provincial government.

No Civic Pay Boosts In New Westminster

Record $2 Billion in Taxes Collected in Year 1951-52

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal tax collector hit a record jackpot in the 1951-52 fiscal year.

Latest figures published by the revenue department today showed that revenues from income tax, profits and succession duties rose to a peak $2,204,046,302 in the taxation year ending March 31, 1952.

This was an increase of more than $600,000,000 from the $1,556,875,000 collected from similar sources in the previous year and for the first time in the postwar era passed the wartime high of $1,635,494,760 collected in 1943-44.

This was additional, of course, to other revenue sources, excise and sales taxes and customs duties which amounted roughly to another $2,000,000,000.

The shopkeeper, the lawyer, the baker and the big army of other Canadians contributed $975,776,320 in personal income tax. This record contribution, up from $652,328,680 in the previous year, exceeded the wartime peak of $813,435,128 in 1943-44.

General income tax from corporations swept to a record $1,118,067,202, a jump of more than $400,000,000 from $711,576,735 in 1950-51, and almost four times the wartime high of $347,969,723 in 1942-43.

At the same time, the federal tax collector trimmed his collection costs to $21,873,960 from $25,174,064 in 1950-51 and from the record $28,103,621 in 1949-50.

10 Rules for Effective Results

You can do the same. Following are 10 rules for getting effective results from prayer:

1. Set aside a few minutes every day. Do not say anything. Simply practice thinking about God. This will make your mind spiritually receptive.
2. Then pray orally, using simple, natural words. Tell God anything that is on your mind. Do not think you must use stereotyped phrases. Talk to God in your own language. He understands it.
3. Pray as you go about the business of the day, on the subway or bus or at your desk. Utilize minute prayers by closing your eyes to shut out the world and concentrating briefly on God's presence. The more you do this every day the nearer you will feel God's presence.
4. Do not always ask when you pray, but instead affirm that God's blessings are being given, and spend most of your prayers giving thanks.
5. Pray with the belief that sincere prayers can reach out and surround your loved ones with God's love and protection.
6. Never use a negative thought in prayer. Only positive thoughts get results.
7. Always express willingness to accept God's will. Ask for what you want, but be willing to take what God gives you. It may be better than what you ask for.
8. Practice the attitude of putting everything in God's hands. Ask for the ability to do your best and leave the results confidently to God.
9. Pray for people you do not like or who have mistreated you. Resentment is blockade number one of spiritual power.
10. Make a list of people for whom to pray. The more you pray for other people, especially those not connected with you, the more prayer results will come back to you.

The Farmers' Parliament

THE CANADIAN FEDERATION of Agriculture in session here this week is the farmers' parliament. As such it represents one of the most important industries and many of the ablest people in the nation. Its power, like that of the national labor union organizations, is incalculable but very great. The Parliament in Ottawa can never ignore its views on the management of the farm industry, one of the main pillars of the whole national economy.

The British Columbia public does not understand as well as the agricultural provinces of the prairies, Ontario and Quebec the complex problems facing agriculture in the modern world. No one can grasp the intricacies of the huge and complicated wheat industry, for example, without years of study and experience.

Nevertheless, the general trend of agricultural thinking in Canada is clear enough. The farmers have joined together to protect their interests in a society which, they believe, has not always given them justice in the market-place. They have watched labor organize for similar purposes and secure great gains for the industrial worker. They have seen the manufacturers, powerfully organized, fasten costly tariffs on the consumer and thus hold up the price which the farmer must pay for manufactured goods. And by perfectly legitimate means the farmers have slowly built up their own pressure group which can speak on their behalf to government with the power of the farm vote behind it.

From the farmer's viewpoint some great gains already have been won. From time to time the government of Canada has been persuaded to place floors under various farm prices. The beef and pork industries were protected, after the foot-and-mouth disaster, at heavy cost to the taxpayer and consumer. The unfortunate British wheat deal was designed to protect the farmer from fluctuation in wheat prices but, based erroneously on the assumption of falling wheat prices, actually forced the farmer to sell his wheat below the prevailing world price, cost him large sums not completely covered by a federal subsidy of $65 millions.

Today the farmers appear determined to renew the International Wheat Agreement which, replacing the British deal, guarantees fixed purchases of wheat, at floor and ceiling prices, by importers of foreign countries.

The Legend of China

THAT MOST BRILLIANT OF Canadian orators, Mr. Max Freedman, of Winnipeg, in two speeches here this week, covered most of the earth's surface in eloquence as he has already covered it in person.

He made one point in his speech to the Canadian and Kiwanis Clubs which badly needed making. It is that the United States Government, contrary to the popular political smear, did not lose China to communism. On the contrary, says this confident of statesmen in Washington, London and Ottawa, China accepted communism beyond the power of the western world to stop it.

When President Truman sent General Marshall to China at the close of the Second World War what, asks Mr. Freedman, did he find there? He found that Russia had possessed and now in actual fact holds the richest northern provinces of China. The Chinese communists themselves held the entire country except the south. And the Nationalist government of Chiang Kai-shek was rapidly dissolving.

The United States spent $3 billions (a gigantic sum in Chinese terms) to help the Nationalists but most of the money was squandered in inefficiency and graft. How, then, could the United States shore up the collapsing structure of Nationalist China, as Mr. Truman's critics say he should have done?

Only, as Mr. Freedman replies, by a massive military intervention in China, by involving itself there in a major military war, with no end in sight but the end which the Japan-

All this, of course, is part of the farmers' determination to escape, through the intervention of the state, from the fluctuations of the open market and the price system. He says, quite logically, that other segments of the economy, notably the labor segment, through wage agreements, and the manufacturers, through the tariff, already have gone far in this direction. He sees no reason why he should not do likewise.

But in all these policies there are great risks for those who enforce them. The British wheat deal showed how a bad guess by the farmers and the state can lose the farmers money. Excessive production costs in industry, created by high wages, high taxes and high tariffs, can finally depress industry and throw workers out of their jobs, as has happened to some degree in the British Columbia lumber and fishing industries.

The hard and inescapable fact, which the farmers probably understand better than anyone else, is that all our economy rides on export markets, even those segments which never sell a pound of goods to foreigners. For if the exporting market, for example, finds its foreign markets shrinking its unemployed workers buy less high-priced farm products. The reverse is equally true. If the farmer cannot sell his products abroad he cannot buy the products of the manufacturer.

It follows that the Canadian price level for farm and all other products is governed in the end by the world price which Canada cannot control. And if, in the attempt to evade the world market, Canada resorts to protectionist policies and reduces its foreign trade, then every Canadian suffers, no one so quickly or so drastically as the farmer because the farm industry is mainly an exporting industry through our vast foreign sales of such things as wheat and meat.

Protectionism and restraint of trade are the paramount enemies of the farmer and it is to be hoped that in his deliberations he will always keep that fact in mind. His interests lie in promoting abundant trade, which may temporarily damage some small segments of his business, but in the end will profit his business as a whole. Whereas restraint of trade, however it may be disguised by taxpayers' subsidies, will strike at the root of his prosperity.

ese and other conquerors ultimately reached in the Chinese quagmire.

What would have happened, asks Mr. Freedman, if an American government had proposed to transfer its battle-worn armies from Europe and the Pacific to China? At the time the American people had a single idea—to get the boys home. No government, even if this had been wise, could have embarked on a Chinese war. And supposing it had made this plunge, what then?

How could it have persuaded the Chinese people to accept Chiang when clearly they were determined to rid themselves of his corrupt government? How could all the military power of the United States have coerced some four hundred million Chinese? And if coercion had been attempted, what Asiatic outside China, or what foreigner anywhere could have been persuaded that the United States was not embarked on a cold-blooded imperialist adventure against the colored races?

Finally, if the United States had committed its entire available power to an endless war in China, what would have happened in Europe? There could have been no Marshall Plan, no North Atlantic Treaty, no defence of Europe. It would have been left bare and helpless before the Russians who, at that time, hoped to seize it and only halted when they were resisted.

Mr. Freedman performs a useful service in recalling plain facts usually forgotten in the confusion of American politics. One wishes that his superb speeches could be heard all over the United States.

Flying Too High

READERS WHO HAVE FOLLOWED for many months the excellent dispatches on the Korean war written at first-hand by Canadian Press Correspondent Bill Boss will view with mixed feelings his venture into the realm of flying saucers.

On his return to this country the correspondent said in an interview that he had talked with pilots who swear to having had actual experience with speedy disks, clusters of colored lights and other phenomena of the upper air. The suppo-

tion is that these objects, so far innocuous in effect, originate in Soviet territory and pose a threat of unknown dimensions to our future safety.

The latest evidence on l'affaire saucer is not too impressive. It is not evident at this distance just how much combat fatigue, oxygen deficiency, high speeds and reflections may have figured in the pilots' observations. But a phenomenon which ranges in size from space-ship dimensions to eight inches requires salt in similar proportions.

LOOSE ENDS

Tobacco Road

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

AS an original admirer of "Tobacco Road" I really can't understand what all the shooting is about. The play which the morality squad of Vancouver has closed remained on Broadway for many years—I forget how many but longer than almost any other play. I saw it there long ago, when I was still young and impressionable. It impressed me all right, as a great play, but not as a piece of filth likely to damage the morals of the public.

"Tobacco Road" undertakes to reveal a segment of life in the deep south. It will be a sorry day when North Americans are unable to take a good frank look at the way other North Americans live, even if their life is unpleasant. But that is not the main point.

THE main point is that "Tobacco Road" is not an attempt to sell dirt. It is an attempt to tell the truth. Curiously enough, the authorities which ban "Tobacco Road" allow thousands of other plays and movies to sell dirt at will. I suppose "Tobacco Road" is just too honest.

ALWAYS CLEAN

Hollywood is in the dirt business on a gigantic scale, but dishonestly and therefore safely. Many of the movies from there have no other purpose but to excite lust. Of course they never admit that. They keep the female form wrapped up in just enough clothing to be more obscene than if it were naked. Their code is strict, measured by the square inch. They have converted the strip-tease from a minor aspect of the frontier brothel into a billion-dollar industry. And, according to their measurements, they are always clean.

NO adult person is deceived by this cleanliness. No one who looks at a theatre billboard can doubt for a moment what the movies are selling in this variety of picture. They are selling smut and sex and they have learned to wrap it up in neat parcels that get by the censors and reach the customers, with consequences that no one can measure.

When, however, an author like Erskine Caldwell or Tennessee Williams writes an honest play like "Tobacco Road" or "A Streetcar Named Desire," a lot of people who should know better are appalled. What have these people been looking at all this time? Have they never seen a sign in front of a theatre or an advertisement of protuberant females in the newspapers?

IMMORALITY

THE purpose of the Criminal Code in these matters is to prevent the encouragement of immorality and that is a sound purpose. The real test of any play in this respect is whether it does or does not encourage immorality.

By that test "Tobacco Road" certainly cannot be called a dangerous play because it has no such effect. The dangerous plays are those that make vice seem attractive and, by glamorizing it, seduce the young. "Tobacco Road" makes vice seem repulsive. It could not encourage anyone to sin. On the contrary, it must encourage anyone to avoid sin like the plague.

Where it is concerned with sex at all (and that not much) it strips off the nonsense and deceit usually used slyly and leeringly by the smut industry. In short, it is an honest play recounting facts which every adult person knows anyway.

WHEREAS another box office hit, "The Voice of the Turtle," was, in its New York production, so perfectly scandalous as to make even an old man like me wriggle with embarrassment. No one objected to "The Voice of the Turtle" because it was sly, because it leered, insinuated and looked genteel.

Serious plays like "Tobacco Road" and the "Street Car" are not intended for the young. It is for parents to see that the young do not attend them. But, provided a play does not cross the sensible border established by the Criminal Code, the adult Canadian does not need snoopers, busybodies and excited spinsters to protect its morals, nor censors to say what it shall and shall not see.

ANYWAY, the censors are looking in the wrong direction and, in this case at least, seem unable to distinguish between realism and dirt. The fact that they are making Vancouver a laughing stock all over America, I suppose, is of little importance. The important and dangerous thing is that they are trying to restrict the basic rights of Canadian citizens.

Japan and the Balance of Power

By WALTER LIPPMANN from Washington

A WEEK before the inauguration, on Jan. 13, the Japanese government issued a statement, in fact addressed to the Soviet Union, protesting against the frequent violation of the sky over Japanese territory and serving notice that the intruders would be attacked. The warning was supported at once by Gen. Clark's headquarters and by the American Embassy in Tokyo.

This is an important development in itself and also because it raises so many of the unanswered questions connected with American military commitment to protect Japan.

First, a few facts. Japan consists of a chain of islands of which the most northern is called Hokkaido. Six miles north of Hokkaido is the first island of another chain, known as the Habomai or Little Kuriles. Beyond them there is the island chain of the Kuriles proper.

Now the Habomai islands are so close to Hokkaido that the main fishing port in northern Japan, a place called Nemuro, is really under Soviet control in the sense that the Japanese ships have to pass through waters controlled by the Soviet. From the Soviet-Kuriles come not only the intruding airplanes, the harassing actions against the Japanese fishing vessels, but also an infiltration across the narrow waters by agents and agitators.

The question has now arisen of how the U.S. can make good its promise, made last April in the Mutual Security Treaty, for the defense of Japan against external aggression. What, to be specific, should it and can it do for the security of Hokkaido against intruding aircraft, harassment of the fishing fleet, infiltration and Soviet aggression?

It is evident that the United States cannot do everything. It cannot, for example, station coast guards around Hokkaido. It cannot put American police inside Hokkaido to detect and to round up infiltrating agents.

Phantasies in Fog

New York Times

Humbling as it is, for a man alone and walking the fog is full of fantasy. The prosaic shapes of familiar buildings sprout turrets and buttresses, or whatever the imagination will. The figure across the street is not the old clothes man but the green knight on the far side of the moat bearing a fair lady away from the garbage truck dragon. In the night fog street lights are the signal torches telling of Agamemnon's return. The vague silhouette in the apartment house window Clytemnestra, waiting. There's no end. However the fog impairs the outer vision, the mind's eye it opens wide.

Why, Mr. Abbott, How Appropriate!

As Our Readers See It

FOR... I am writing to congratulate you on the publication of chapters from Dr. Peale's book.

This is a step forward indeed from the prevalent negative news, etc., carried by newspapers.

Being a member of the Victoria Truth Centre I am indeed thankful that our positive constructive outlook is being carried to so many by this series, and know it will do untold good.

G. E. SMITH.
562 Selkirk Avenue.

... AND AGAINST

After reading the article in Monday's Times "Believe in Yourself" in which Dr. Peale gives his readers a recipe for self-hypnosis by the use of phrases from Holy Writ as a sort of incantation to that Self in whom we are to believe, a brief quotation from Alexander MacLaren's Expositions of Holy Scripture seems apt.

Dr. MacLaren says, on the matter of success in life-building, "We have to drive a shaft clear down through all the superficial strata, and to lay the first stones on the Rock of Ages."

What warrant have we for using the promises of scripture as Dr. Peale does unless we have first met the God of the promises, and that on His own terms.

Is the Bible a book from which we may lift "choice sayings" and apply them according to our own fancy? I think not.

THE HOSPITALS MESS

Premier Bennett says that his (so-called) "hospital insurance under Health Minister Eric Martin is in better shape than it ever was." (Vancouver Sun, January 6). We B.C. citizens utterly reject Mr. Bennett's amazingly complacent attitude, and with excellent reason, because it is we who are so heavily taxed to support the wretched BCHIS system.

I want to ask Premier Bennett to answer three straight questions:

(1) How does he justify a tax (oh yes, it is compulsory) of $27 for a single person's one risk, while a married man with three children covers five risks, plus an expensive maternity risk, for $39, or only $7.80 per risk, and the maternity risk entirely free? Not only this but Social Credit has quite recently greatly widened the field for dependents' claims. Single persons seldom have a dependent. In Saskatchewan the single hospital tax is $15, a somewhat more reasonable figure.

(2) A great number of B.C. citizens are either totally evading the hospital tax or are heavily in arrears with their payments. To correct this unfair condition of things, why cannot the sales tax be so modified to cover the hospitals as well as the other social services. Everybody would then contribute according to their means, as they do now for other and less essential services. Very large administrative savings would be immediately effected. There would be no arrears, no expensive legal proceedings in an attempt to collect arrears.

(3) If Premier Bennett gives us an election in early spring, will he first meet the Legislative Assembly and allow full and frank debate on the hospitals issue? With free access to the recent report on this matter as instituted by the previous government, and paid for by the B.C. taxpayers.

If you think my expression hospitals mess too strong, just consider Mayor Goldsworthy's strongly expressed determination to close North Vancouver's General Hospital; other hospitals will also have to close. Social Credit may have to take them over and may yet impose upon us socialized hospitals. Let the electors beware of where we are heading.

A PAY-ROLL TAXPAYER.

INvariably FAVORABLE

On numerous occasions in the past one has read correspondence in your columns proclaiming dire distress and calamity will befall the citizens should a Social Credit regime be elected as the federal government at Ottawa.

Being curious, I have made it a practice when coming in contact with former citizens of Alberta residing in Victoria, to ask a question, namely: "What is your opinion of the Social Credit government of Alberta?" It is invariably favorable.

I have been aware for a goodly period the people pay interest for the privilege of utilizing their own collateral. In my humble opinion until the citizens as a whole get down to fundamentals as to what really constitutes real value in its relationship with the present financial system, so long will the folk continue to flounder in the morass from a financial point of view.

WALTER INWARD.
1446 Lang Street.

BUS SERVICES

It must strike many visitors to our city that the bus service needs reorganization. In the holiday season especially and all through the year it appears most buses leave the city at or around midnight. To the many who don't own an auto it is very inconvenient and especially to the theatre and dancing public. They have either to rush out of a theatre or dance hall to catch the last bus leaving about 12.05, or if they want to stay in the city and entertain their friends to a supper or even have a spot of tea, it means they must take a taxi home at a cost of nearly $2 to many districts.

Again, for the size of the population of this city, its citizens should have more frequent service. Even if one has visitors at their home, one often hears the remark, "I must leave now even before the last bus." The reason is generally "If I don't leave now I'll miss my last bus from downtown to my destination."

In many cases buses don't connect. I must say it's about time this city grew up in regard to such matters. It really takes the pleasure out of entertaining visitors.

Hospital Insurance Costs

My attention has been called to a letter in your issue of 21st instant, by Harry P. Hodges, former editor of the Times.

My remarks concerning hospital insurance and hospital costs are my own conclusions, as a taxpayer. I do not feel obliged to answer Mr. Hodges' questions, because he is a member of the Hospital Board and has the facts available to him. It is the present system of hospital insurance that is under attack, and if the board can do anything to reduce these costs, then the board has a public duty to perform.

The government has indicated its policy. We hope to see some action by the board, which will give effect to the desire of the people, as expressed in the recent provincial election.

Mr. Hodges asks, to whom do I refer when I use the word "we" in regard to my criticism of hospital costs. My answer is that I speak for the people as a whole, especially those who are trying to live on $60 a month and less, and therefore cannot afford to be sick.

I should like to express appreciation of the work being done by hospital nurses, and especially having in mind the nurses in training, who give such loving service for so small remuneration.

LIBERALS HOPING

Expect Magic Act by Abbott

Believe Finance Minister Plans To Spend More Yet Reduce Taxes

OTTAWA (BUP)—Liberal members of Parliament, facing the problems of re-election, believed today that Finance Minister D. C. Abbott would prove himself to be a modern Merlin the Magician.

They believed Abbott could pull a tax-cutting rabbit out of the hat containing his $4,750,000,000 spending budget for 1953-54.

This despite the fact that overall expenditures in the new fiscal year opening April 1 will run 1.2 per cent higher than they were forecast for the current year.

The secret: A 6 per cent increase in Canada's gross national product during the year. The increase would permit Abbott to spread the tax load more thinly over the broad upsurge in Canadian prosperity.

Defense Figures Key to Budget

The defense department trimmed only $930,000 off its 1952-53 appropriations when it sought another $2,000,795,000 for the new fiscal year. But the defense department trimmed its $117,000,000 appropriations by $50,000,000.

Finance officials said this was probably the most significant feature of the spending program for the new fiscal year—an indication that the re-

Britain Warned Of Blow by Sea If Reds Attack

LONDON (AP)—A former high-ranking British naval officer warned today that Russia could knock out Britain with an all-out attack on her shipping.

Rear-Admiral Angus Nicholl, retired, said Britain urgently needs fast seaborne fighters capable of protecting the vital Atlantic shipping lanes against sudden attack by enemy jet fighters.

"Until we have them, Britain—indeed western Europe—is in danger," he said.

Nicholl, former naval aide to the late King George VI and, until 1950, a leading British delegate in Allied military planning groups, expressed his views in an article in The Navy magazine of the Navy League.

Bitter Complaint By Puerto Rican in Korea

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (BUP)—A Puerto Rican private has come to the defense of nearly 100 of his comrades who were court-martialed for refusing to fight in Korea last October. The soldier—who was not one of those court-martialed—says his regiment was bitter over lack of food, equipment, and ammunition—and the long tour of front-line duty. In a letter back home, the soldier says: "We received almost no ammunition. There was no gasoline for some of our vehicles. We ate when the Koreans managed to bring some ration cans."

The writer added that the troops got nothing to eat for five days at one time. Also, he said—"for Puerto Ricans there is no rotation here. There are some men here with 11 or 12 months of service and they go on fighting. When reinforcements come from Puerto Rico, they are assigned to other regiments."

THE WEATHER

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD, HOURS TO DATE,
1953-28.1.

SYNOPSIS—A strong westerly flow that developed in the wake of the disturbance that moved over B.C. Wednesday has carried relatively warm air from the Pacific over the north coastal area as well as over all of the southern part of the province. In these areas the weather will continue mild and showery with continuous rain beginning tomorrow evening along the north coast as another disturbance approaches.

In the northern interior a mass of cold Arctic air continues to dominate the weather which will remain cold with occasional snow flurries.

Public Speaking
Course Scheduled
By Toastmasters

A special course in public speaking will be held by the four Toastmaster Clubs of Victoria starting Feb. 24 at 6:15 p.m. in the Monterey Restaurant.

Designed to aid in "the development of men for service to their communities," the course will continue for eight weeks.

Instruction will be given by members of the four clubs who will base their teaching on practical experience. The course is a short comprehensive one aimed to give "quick help to the inexperienced speaker and to assist the man who has had some experience in speech."

Information may be obtained from Ken Tyrrell, Harry Olden, Steve Findlay and Gordon Willisroft.

3,500,000 RIDE N.Y. BUSES AGAIN

Last of Nine Independent Transportation Lines End Strike That Began New Year

NEW YORK (UP)—Buses of nine independent New York companies serving 3,500,000 riders rolled today for the first time since New Year's Eve as the companies and striking union members agreed to submit their dispute to arbitration.

The last of the nine companies signed an arbitration agreement with the union early today.

The first buses began moving over the long-idle routes at 10 p.m. Wednesday, and most lines were operating normally in time to carry millions of New York commuters to work this morning. Other buses, out of service because of long idleness, were expected to be in repair and carrying passengers by afternoon. Spokesmen for the companies said service would be near normal tonight.

Seven of the nine struck companies signed the arbitration agreement with the CIO Transport Workers' Union late Wednesday.

But two companies, the New York City Omnibus Corporation and the Fifth Avenue Coach Company, held out signing the agreement until early today.

CPA Gets Last Remnants of Bombed Plane

QUEBEC CITY (BUP)—The last traces of an airliner time-bombed by Jeweler J. Albert Guay, watchmaker Genereux Ruest and courier Marguerite Pitre were returned to Canadian Pacific Airlines in Montreal today.

The remains of the DC-3 aircraft in which 23 persons were killed more than three years ago were returned to the company by the Crown.

The twisted and charred pieces of metal served as material evidence in the trials of the three Quebecers who were hanged for the plot.

They now will be studied by experts to find ways to better protect passengers aboard planes.

The pieces of the time-bombed aircraft were turned over to CPA officials at the court house here where Guay, Mrs. Pitre and Ruest went on trial and were sentenced to death.

$10,000,000 GIVEN TO ADVENTISTS BY COUPLE

PENDLETON, Ore. (BUP)—A pious Pendleton business man and his wife say they gave their $10,000,000 lumber business to the Seventh-Day Adventist Church because they "wanted to do right by God."

Clyde H. Harris, aged 62, and his wife, Mary, say they felt God helped them build up the firm since it was a small box factory 40 years ago.

"God expects his share of a man's income," said Harris. The assets and plant of Harris Pine Mills, Incorporated, was turned over to the Seventh-Day Adventist Church Wednesday. W. H. Branson of Washington, D.C., world president of the denomination, said it was the largest gift ever received by the church, which has a program reaching into 170 countries.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris joined the church soon after they were married 38 years ago in Milton, Ore.

GRAND SEND-OFF PROMISED

Howe's Arrival Unnoticed

BOGOTA, Colombia (BUP)—An RCAF plane travelled faster than a cablegraphic message and, as a result, Canadian Trade Minister C. D. Howe missed out on military honors and an official welcome.

No one was on hand to greet the minister and his 11-man good-will trade mission touring Latin America when the RCAF C-54 luxury transport arrived Wednesday in the afternoon. A cable from Maracaibo, Venezuela, announcing that the trade mission had advanced departure time, reached Bogota long after Howe and the businessmen arrived.

They had been expected about two hours later.

When the Canadians disembarked there was nobody from the Canadian Embassy or Colombian government to greet them.

An army battalion which was to render military honors was still at its barracks.

Minister of Finance Alvarez and Minister of Development Carlos Villaveces and members of the Canadian diplomatic mission were all at their offices.

The Colombian government now is preparing a big send-off when the Canadian commercial mission leaves.

Allies Throw 'Book' At Surprised Chinese

SEOUL, Korea. (UP)—United Nations raiders in a no-man's land battle south of the truce village of Panmunjom hit surprised Reds today with "everything but the kitchen sink."

For a half-hour the Allied raiders turned rifle and automatic weapons fire, hand grenades, flame throwers and satchel charges against a Chinese unit caught dozing.

From the rear a tank, artillery and mortar barrage hurtled over the raiders' heads and down upon the Chinese.

"We threw in the book," said a frontline officer. "That is, everything but the kitchen sink, and that didn't fit anything we could fire."

When the raiders withdrew they left 30 dead Chinese and many others wounded.

In the air about 100 fighter-bombers poured bombs, bullets and flaming jetted gasoline on a vital troop concentration at Sinchon, where the Reds hold reserves for the western front.

An estimated 55 buildings were destroyed by three wings of fighter-bombers in their strike on the Communist billetting area.

One of the pilots on the bombing raid, Lt. Col. Wilfred B. Crutchfield of Madisonville, Ken., said "If those troops still are concentrated, it's someplace besides North Korea."

Ex-Prime Minister Dies in Australia

MELBOURNE (Reuters).—James Henry Scullin, 76, leader of the Australian Labor Party from 1928 to 1935 and a former prime minister, died Wednesday.

Born in Victoria State, Scullin won his first seat in the House of Representatives in 1910. He was prime minister and minister of industry from 1929 to 1931.

With an automatic water heater, there's hot water in the tank every time you need it . . . at the temperature you like it. There's no patting old-fashioned tanks, no wasteful stoking, or running up and down stairs.

It's automatic, it's dependable . . . ready any time you turn the tap to give forth hot water for baths, for laundry, for 101 household uses.

You'll treat yourself to new comfort and convenience with an automatic water heater, particularly if you choose the proper size tank for your requirements. Here is a guide to help you:

No. of Bathrooms	No. of Bedrooms	Electric Storage Water Heater Capacity Gallons	Gas Storage Water Heater Capacity Gallons
1	2 or 3	40	30
1	4	50	30
2	3 or 4	60	40

On larger homes individual recommendations are necessary.

GENEREUX IS NAMED TOP ATHLETE OF 1952

TORONTO (CP)—Big George Genereux, the brush-cut kid who cradled a scatter-gun at the age of 12 and later became a world champion, has won the Lou Marsh Memorial Trophy as Canada's outstanding athlete of 1952, it was announced today.

The 18-year-old high school student from Saskatoon, practically a phenomenon in the sport world, vaulted from obscurity to become Canada's only gold medal winner of the 1952 Olympic Games with his trapshooting skill.

Barbara Ann at Home In Scullery as Well

NEW YORK (CP)—Canada's Barbara Ann Scott is as much at home in the kitchen as on the ice.

The blonde star of the Hollywood Ice Revue, now playing at New York's Madison Square Garden, is also a musician, a golfer and a horsewoman but, she told interviewers, her daily preoccupation is with cooking.

Wherever she goes two trunks go with her. One carries her personal wardrobe and skating equipment. The other holds an electric oven, toaster, coffeemaker, plus pots, pans and jars of preserves.

Guilty of Income Tax Evasion

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A meteoric, sometimes turbulent rise to baseball success appeared at an end today for Fred Saigh, owner of St. Louis Cardinals, who was sentenced to 15 months in prison and fined $15,000 for federal income tax evasion.

The dapper 48-year-old Saigh pleaded no defense in a five-count indictment Wednesday and threw himself on the mercy of the court. The government dropped three of the five counts.

Federal Judge Roy Harper sentenced Saigh to 15 months in prison on each count, the sentence to run concurrently. He also fined him $10,000 on one count and $5,000 on the second. Maximum penalty on each count is up to five years' imprisonment or a maximum fine of $10,000 or both.

Saigh had to control his voice as he rose to address the court. "This means, of course, I will have to dispose of the Cardinals. There is no way I can stay in baseball."

SPECIFIC COUNTS

Specifically, the counts Saigh faced charged evasion of $19,299 in taxes in 1947 and 1949.

By his own statement, Saigh is through in baseball. Free on $2,000 bond, he has until May 4 to clear up business matters.

The prime portion of that business concerns his ball club, a $4,000,000-plus enterprise to which Saigh holds 90 per cent claim. He purchased the club from the late Sam Breadon in 1947 together with the late Bob Hannagan.

FRICK SILENT

Baseball has remained silent on Saigh's sentencing. Ford Frick, baseball commissioner, said there "are too many legal angles in this situation" to comment immediately.

A source high in the sport, however, pointed out there are two possible steps that can be taken by baseball.

1. The commissioner can invoke the rule that gives him power to bar anybody from baseball on the grounds that he is detrimental to baseball.

2. The National League executives can use a clause in their constitution to keep a person from owning a club.

The same high baseball authority said a Houston, Tex., group had made inquiries about buying the Cardinals.

THOMSON SIGNS NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Thomson, 29-year-old centre fielder-third baseman, signed his contract with New York Giants Wednesday for a reported $35,000.

"Yes, it's a romantic spot. Say, did I ever tell you about the time I was pin-high on this hole using a three-iron?"

Bluebirds Increase Paddle Lead

Bluebird Cabs Monday night downed Henney's 23-13 at Club Sirocco to take a six-point lead in the Victoria Tennis Association's Senior "A" League.

Second-place Robinson's Grocery battled to an 18-18 draw with Butler's Aces while Berg's Music Shop nipped MacDonald's Ltd., 17-11.

Individual scorers follow:

Bluebird Cabs—K. Olson, D. Elworthy, G. Elworthy, S. Ngai, 4; doubles, 2. Total—23.

Henney's Carriage—G. Clarke, I. M. Woods, J. D. Wilkinson, L. L. Greenwood, 6; doubles, 2. Total—13.

Berg's Music Shop—B. Dawson, A. A. Sabel, 4; S. Singh, 4; G. Smuda, 2. Total—17.

MacDonald's Ltd.—C. Ngai, S. B. Mason, 2; S. Canova, 2; D. Merion, 1. Total—11.

Bluebird Cabs—19, 1; T. P. P. 27. Robinson's Grocery—19, 1; 27. Henney's Carriage—9, 9; 27. Berg's Music Shop—4, 4; 27. MacDonald's Ltd.—4, 4; 27. Butler's Aces—4, 4; 27.

The villainous Masked Marvel is back in town and will do battle with Dick Hayes in the semi-main while Rex Gordon and Al Watkins tangle in the opener at 8.30.

Canadiens Take NHL Leadership

Montreal 2, New York 1

Detroit Red Wings today find themselves in an embarrassing position. No longer are they riding herd on the National Hockey League.

Despite Gordie Howe's league-leading marksmanship Detroit is trailing Montreal Canadiens. The Canadiens nicked New York Rangers 2-1 Wednesday night to put them a half-game ahead of Detroit which has fronted the flock since Dec. 11.

The manoeuvring sets the stage for tonight's games. A Detroit win against Chicago Black Hawks will put the Motor City outfit in front again provided Montreal drops its fixture with New York on home ice.

Canadiens didn't take over the league leadership without a battle. The close-checking game was meagre with goals. Floyd Curry scored the winner for Montreal and the opener went to Kenny Mosdell. New York's mistake was off the stick of Pete Babando.

OBITUARY

The great Maurice Richard failed to appear in the scoring summary. The offy goal he was remotely connected with was New York's which came when the Rocket was languishing in the penalty box for a minor infraction.

Kenya Natives Oppose Mau Maus

Anti-Mau Mau feeling is aroused to an intense pitch among white settlers in the troubled Kenya district of Africa with the recent quadruple murder of a British farmer, his wife, son and a servant. Some 1,500 irate settlers took part in a march on Government House recently with demands for stronger measures against the terrorist group, which has vowed to drive the whites from Kenya. Above, Father Casolati, head of an isolated Catholic mission in the heart of Mau Mau territory, is shown (wearing helmet) with armed guard formed to quell the cult's terrorist activity. B.C. Backing Eastern Farm Bloc In Grain Speculation Protests

A controversy over the marketing of "animal feeds" threatened today to split Canadian farmers into two large opposing factions and endangered as well the existence of the nation's powerful wheat board.

The problem will be closely studied. This was brought to light by eastern farm delegates at the annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture Wednesday during a debate on a resolution calling for a stop to speculation on feed grains, such as oats and barley.

The issue involves, on one side, eastern farmers from Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, and on the other, Prairie grain producers and the powerful wheat pools and grain exchanges. British Columbia showed signs of siding in "principle" with the eastern farmers. Delegates told the meeting that a "strong feeling" is building up in eastern Canada against Prairie grain growers and the wheat board which controls the nation's supply of oats and barley.

The discontent is due mainly to the way feed grains are handled by the wheat board, they said.

"CORNER" ALLEGED
It was pointed out that the system under which grain is handled and distributed by the board allowed speculators to corner the oats and barley market and to force prices up.

W. Taylor, Saanich dairy farmer, told the meeting that Vancouver Island farmers are "most concerned" with the price of feed. He said the bulk of the agricultural industry on the Island will not be able to survive

Congressman Asks if UN Attack In Korea Staged as 'Spectacle'

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich.) formally demanded in the House today an official explanation of Sunday's ill-fated United Nations attack on Communist lines near T-Bone Hill in Korea.

He said he wanted to know whether the raid was staged for "justifiable military purposes" or as a show comparable to the Roman spectacles in which gladiators performed for guests of the emperors.

Hoffman introduced a privileged "resolution of inquiry" calling on the defense department to tell the house why the attack was ordered, whether newspapermen and others were invited to watch it, and how many Americans and other UN troops lost their lives.

News dispatches from Korea tracked. In other words, he

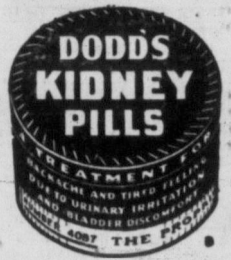

Resident Here 75 Years, Mrs. Isobel Shouldice Dies

Mrs. Isobel Gertrude Shouldice, 76, who resided in Victoria for 75 years, died Wednesday in a private nursing home here.

Born of pioneer stock on Gabriola Island, Mrs. Shouldice was the widow of Samuel Shouldice and a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Marks. She was a stepdaughter of the late E. H. Henley.

The Henleys, among Victoria's earliest settlers, owned and operated the old Cliff House on Dallas Road at Clover Point for many years.

Mrs. Shouldice is survived by three sons, Leonard, Wilfred and Clarence, all of Victoria; one daughter, Mrs. Violet Allen, 1256

Thousands and thousands of voice tracks—consisting of every telephone line in Victoria—must reach the automatic equipment in the central office building. They do so via telephone cables, each cable being a metal sheath containing up to 3,600 insulated wires. They follow their various routes to the central office building and come into it underground, converging in the cable vault, shown above. From the cable vault the lines travel up to the "switch room" where they are fanned out on rows of racks and routed to the dial equipment.

Big Telephone Expansion Program Cuts Down Victoria Waiting List

Victoria's waiting list for telephone service has been cut down substantially since last September when the B.C. Telephone Company began its current $500,000 central office automatic expansion program.

In fact this big program made it possible to make an increase of well over 1500 telephones in Victoria during 1952, most of these being installed in the last four months of the year.

Largest project of its kind to be undertaken in Victoria since the system was converted to dial operation 23 years ago, this expansion program is expected to provide telephone service for the majority of waiting applicants by summer.

Additional telephones are being installed in Victoria as fast as central office equipment and outside plant become available in the current program.

A $300,000 outside cable program designed to match the central office addition was completed last year, with a second cable project costing in the neighborhood of $100,000 scheduled to start before this summer.

Natural Gas Import Would Cut Accidents

An end to the tragic number of accidental deaths resulting from use of manufactured gas in heating and cooking was held out to British Columbia today through import of natural gas from Alberta.

British Columbia Electric Company officials, distributors of gas in Vancouver and Victoria, said they planned to switch their systems over to natural gas when and if the Westcoast Transmission Company begins supplying the local market.

Vancouver last year had 115 gas deaths and Victoria 10, making manufactured coal gas a more fearful killer than traffic accidents.

It was learned, however, that such deaths will likely be a thing of the past if use of natural gas becomes widespread here, as it does not contain the deadly, lethal carbon monoxide present in coal gas.

Gassing deaths in Alberta, where the natural gas is used widely, are almost unknown.

B.C. Electric Company officials said the Vancouver system would be revamped first, and extension of natural gas made to Victoria as soon as it was economically feasible.

44 New Zealand Centres To Honor Queen and Philip

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuters)—Visits to modern cities, historic tribal grounds and scenic wonders have been neatly dovetailed in the plans for the six-week royal tour of New Zealand next winter.

The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh will travel by train, plane and automobile and will visit 44 cities and towns during their stay, according to the itinerary announced today by Prime Minister Sidney Holland.

The tour plan is designed to give the Queen and her husband a well-rounded picture of this isolated southern dominion, while enabling as many New Zealanders as possible to see their newly-crowned monarch.

The royal party will land Dec. 23 at Auckland, near the northern tip of the northern island, and reboard their ship, the Gothic, at the small fishing port of Bluff, close to the southern tip of the Dominion, almost 1,000 miles to the south. They will sail for Australia in late January.

The Queen's traditional Christmas Day broadcast to the people of the Commonwealth will be made from Auckland.

Geological survey staffs, seeking new mineral deposits in the British Commonwealth, have been tripled since 1946.

Settles Big Claim Against CPR

After three years of litigation, Marilyn Noell, student at the University of Toronto, settled a $170,000 claim against the CPR for $9,000 plus $300 a month for the rest of her life. The claim was made when Marilyn was employed as a waitress at the CPR hotel at St. Andrew's-by-the-Sea in New Brunswick and broke her back when she plunged into the hotel's half-empty pool. She said she had been given no warning that the pool was being emptied. She has been in a wheel chair ever since. (SNS.).

Victorians at MRA Meet

Victorians were among many delegates from all parts of Canada and the United States who met recently in Seattle at a Moral Re-Armament Conference.

They heard students from all over the world discuss furtherance of Christian ideology.

Nigeria, Pakistan, India, China and many other countries were represented by students at present attending the University of Washington.

A Pakistan youth revealed the feeling of the meeting when he said: "The bitterness in the world is not the fault of nations, but the fault of human nature, and can be changed by God. The change has to be first in me, then in my family, then in my nation."

The conference intends giving 32,000 foreign students in America each a copy of "The World Rebuilt," by Peter Howard. Financing of the plan is already underway.

Among those attending from Victoria were Mrs. W. G. Hamilton, Mrs. Howard Clark, Mrs. F. W. Tull, Noel Bagshaw and Douglas Aimer.

Montreal Gay For Welcome Of Cardinal

MONTREAL (CP)—This predominantly French-speaking Roman Catholic city took on a festive air today as it prepared to welcome home Paul-Emile Cardinal Leger, first prince of the church in Montreal's history.

The 48-year-old prelate, appointed to the college of cardinals Nov. 29 and elevated at a consistory in Vatican City Jan. 15, returns home from Rome tonight.

Gaily-colored banners, shields and flags decorated homes and buildings and the myriad outside staircases, typical of the city, were wound with bunting and bright-hued crepe paper.

Mayor Camille Houde asked Montrealeers, in a special proclamation, to decorate the exterior of their homes and business places to celebrate the cardinal's homecoming.

U.S. Flu Epidemic Appears to Dwindle

NEW YORK (AP)—The widespread outbreak of mild flu, gripe and other respiratory infections appears to be waning in most sections of the United States.

A country-wide survey today showed that flu-like diseases are on the decline in at least 16 states, with only three states reporting a sizable increase.

CONVICT WINS COMPENSATION

A Vancouver man, a prisoner in Oakalla, has won a $250 compensation award.

He is being paid the money by the government while serving a prison term—but at the sacrifice of one finger.

The cabinet has approved payment of $250 compensation for loss of his right index finger in an accident in the prison's sheet metal shop. The accident involved a punch press.

Prisoners are not covered by the Workmen's Compensation Act, but compensation was awarded by order-in-council.

The sum will be paid to the prisoner in $75 monthly installments through the John Howard Society.

One Dead, 72 Hurt In Tokyo Club Fire

TOKYO (AP)—One man was killed and 72 persons were injured today when a fire destroyed one of Tokyo's swankiest night clubs and two adjoining restaurants. Police said 22 of the injured are in critical condition. Japanese and western patrons were lingering over cocktails in the Gimbasha Silver Coach when a boiler blew up in a chocolate shop below.

London-Tokyo Flights Seen in 16 Hours by BOAC

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—Sir Miles Thomas, BOAC chairman, said today that BOAC Bristol Britannia 100-seater aircraft in 1955 will start flying from London to Tokyo in 16 hours with only one stop.

Twenty-six passenger and five freight carriers have been ordered.

The Britannias will fly westwards from London via Greenland, Canada and the Aleutian Islands, stopping at Edmonton or the Aleutians if held up by weather.

"We think we have a winner in the turbo-prop Britannia for long-range, low-cost tourist service," he said.

ROYAL MAIL MOTOR SHIP

Loch Avon Passengers Unworried By Dollars

See North America on a and about 1,500 tons for the mainland.

Also at The Point was Ms. Vedby, of Danish registry, lifting lumber for the West Indies. After a brief lull, general deep-sea activity at Ogden Point shows indications of speeding up again.

On the list of ships expected in the next 15 days are: Ss. Ania, Corrientes, Evi Livanos, Atlantic Sea, Seawall, Santa Elena, Emancipator, Celia Campanella, Loch Ryan, Welsh Prince, Sunny Prince, Ingleby, Suva, Loch Garth, Sun Jewel, Santa Irene, Costis Los, Dajerdyk and Berbie.

For them, Loch Avon is a floating hotel—they are staying on board for the round trip from London to B.C. and return. Thus they aren't hampered by currency restrictions, as full passage was paid in sterling before leaving England.

The only dollars needed by the passengers are those earmarked for souvenir buying in the dozen ports-of-call made by the ship, including a day in Victoria and five days in Vancouver.

Loch Avon also brought 221 tons of general cargo, which was discharged at Ogden Point.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

City Council has been rapped over the knuckles for "lack of dignity" by Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council.

The secretary-treasurer of the group has written the city, to "express regret at the lack of order" at council and committee meetings.

"Such a lack of dignity is a reflection on the city of Victoria," the letter said, sadly.

As of this writing, the letter of censure from the Trades and Labor Council has not come before City Council.

When it does, though, I am willing to bet there will be a first-class fight and hardly any dignity at all.

Incidentally, I am all in favor of the present modus operandi of City Council.

Affairs of government are apt to be dull at best, and you must admit that our present council does its best to put a little life into them.

I do hope the city fathers do not become too dignified.

According to the headline on Elizabeth Hurlock's article yesterday:

UNAPPRECIATIVE WIFE IS DUE FOR RUDE AWAKENING BY MATE

With a pitcherfull of cold water?

The farmers' convention at the Empress Hotel yesterday was told science may soon be able to make proteins from air. With the amount of hot air circulating around certain large buildings in this capital city, the proteins would come ready-cooked.

Did you see the invisible orchestra at the Royal Theatre last night?

In the orchestra pit during the Winnipeg Ballet's performance were nothing but empty chairs. The music was provided by a public address system hooked up to a tape recorder.

But you'd be wrong if you imagined there was no live orchestra. Mrs. Betty Farrally, the business manager for the troupe, knows it exists, because the names of the musicians appear on her payroll after every performance.

The orchestra does not travel with the troupe, nor does it play a note of music while the dancers are on the road. It gets paid for staying home in Winnipeg and not protesting to the union against the use of "canned" music.

Victoria and Vancouver are battling it out for the rain championship of the Pacific Coast, with Victoria holding a slight edge on points as the end of the first round approaches.

I can understand that Victoria has become tired of Vancouver's boasting, and wishes to prove that it can be just as wet as the mainland city.

But I do not like being caught in the middle of this battle.

Why couldn't it be arranged that Victoria's rain falls only on Gonzales, where the rain gauge is located?

I could use a little sunshine around here.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Severely burned about the lower legs when he kicked a can of burning gasoline Jan. 17, David Singh, 10, of 597 John, is still in St. Joseph's Hospital. His condition is good.

Passing motorist Harold Holford, 534 Hillside, stopped and followed the terrified boy into a house and found him lying on the floor in a faint. Mr. Holford smothered the flames with a cloth he brought from the car and rushed the boy to the hospital.

A case of 12 bottles of Lamb's navy rum was stolen Wednesday night at Ogden Point docks from a pile of cases. Dock agent S. C. Apidon, 3016 Cedar Hill Road, reported to city police theft occurred sometime before 12:30 a.m. today.

Victoria Film Council will sponsor a free film showing of five pictures in the music room of Victoria Public Library to-night at 8.

Films are: "Date of Birth," "Propriet Without Honor," "Cliff Hangers," "Ice Land on the Prairies" and "A Mile Below the Wheat."

The YWCA which lost out on a city grant along with all other charitable organizations last year, today put in a bid for a grant of $2,400 in a letter to City Hall.

Even rubber porch mats aren't safe. Mrs. D. E. Baines, 1514 Fort Street, reported to city police her mat was stolen from the front porch Wednesday night.

City detectives have been asked to help in a search for Delores N. Pearson, 15, who has been missing from her home in Vancouver since Monday. She is five feet, two inches tall, 110 pounds and has light brown hair.

Esquimalt police Wednesday apprehended two boys of juvenile age who had entered the home of Joan White, 679 Granville, and stole some money and other articles Tuesday. Entry was made through an unlocked door. The boys are being dealt with in juvenile court.

The average Victorian had an income of just $2 more in 1950 than average Canadian, the Department of National Revenue revealed today.

The city average was $2,964, and the national average was $2,962.

Lethbridge boasted the highest average income of $3,312 in 1950, and Montreal was in second place with $3,158.

The provincial cabinet and the executive of the B.C. Social Credit League held a pre-session luncheon meeting at the Empress Hotel today.

The cabinet, it is understood, briefed the executive on strategy and government policy planned for the Legislature session opening Tuesday.

The city police blotter today showed owners of business premises were absent-minded Wednesday night. Officers checking stores and offices on their rounds during the night found a dozen places insecure—easy marks for prowling thieves.

The offenses of driving a car not covered by insurance and careless driving resulted in fines totalling $60 and a license suspension for Gunter Heinrich Smuda, 908 Cowichan, in city police court today.

He pleaded guilty to both charges.

By order of the motor vehicle branch he is not permitted to drive any car not covered by insurance.

Charges came after he had been in a collision at Yates and Vancouver Jan. 19. Prosecutor Alan Bigelow said Smuda had a brush with a moving car, hit a parked truck and kept going. He was later traced by police.

Vehicle damage was about $100.

THIEVES LOOT CITY OFFICE

Burglars ransacked two adjoining business premises at 948 Johnson Street during the night and carried off $30 in cash and an undetermined number of stamps.

Police report a back door was forced into the Air-Mist Cleaners. The premises was searched but nothing taken.

A communicating door to the offices of the Sidney Freight Company was forced to gain entry. The money and stamp loss was discovered when employees arrived for work today.

While Elizabeth played matchmaker, another English subject, Lord Darnley, went to Scotland to reclaim family estates. Darnley was 19 and ambitious. Of the blood Royal of Scotland on his father's side, and the blood Royal of England on his mother's, Darnley plotted with Mary's Italian secretary, Rizzio, to marry her.

Although Mary was told that marriage to Darnley, who did not accept Elizabeth's reformed church, might lead to war with England, she decided to marry him. But the vain and ambitious Darnley refused to wait until he was 21 to be proclaimed King. On his insistence, Mary proclaimed him before the wedding. Within the year

Mary tired of Darnley. She had soon discovered him to be vain, brutal and intemperate. She turned to Rizzio—and to the many discovered flaws in his character Darnley now added jealousy. Outraged, he and four friends planned murder. Using a secret staircase, they crept to the room where Mary was at private supper with the Italian and Lady Argyll.

Ready to make home here are Mr. and Mrs. Anton Navratil and daughter Auguste, all injured in Jan. 20 train wreck at Ghost River, Ont., while emigrating from Austria. They are first of six Victoria-bound passengers on train to reach here. (Times photo.)

SURVIVED TRAIN WRECK

New Victorians Tell of Ordeal

By DON INGHAM

It will take more than a train wreck to "sour" Mr. and Mrs. Anton Navratil and their little daughter on Canada.

"It's a big, wonderful country," Mr. Navratil said today on his arrival from Sioux Lookout, where the family was hospitalized after the derailling of the CNR's Transcontinental Limited Jan. 20.

They are the first victims of the wreck to reach here.

Mr. Navratil's mother, who is still suffering from rib fractures and shock received in the early morning wreck, will be released from hospital in two weeks.

VICTIM CLOSE

"The only person killed was sitting right behind us," Mr. Navratil said in English—a language he heard for the first time three weeks ago. "He was leaning against the window, but the window broke and the car crushed him."

"But there was no panic. The injured people were given lots of help, and in an hour a train was taking us to Sioux Lookout."

His blonde wife still limps from injuries she received, but four-year-old Auguste has no trouble running about with her cousins at the home of Mr. Navratil's sister, Mrs. William Prindl, 555 Dupplin Road.

The little girl suffered only a bruised knee.

"It was blue, yellow—all colors," Mr. Navratil laughed.

He had great praise for the medical care given them during the six days they were in hospital, and for the friendly reception they were given.

"The railroad and people at the hospital did many things to help us," he said.

MIXED ATTIRE

Mr. Navratil's attire was a mixture. He wore sturdy leather plus-fours and oxfords that are common vacation dress in Europe, topped off with a wild Canadian, red and black-checked mackinaw jacket that he bought in Sioux Lookout.

A barber by trade, he has no plans for his future here except to get to work as soon as possible.

"First, I must learn English better," he said. "Then maybe I'll open a shop. I'm not sure." Mrs. Prindl left the family Christmas tree standing especially for the newcomers to see on their arrival, and Mr. Navratil showed today that language is no barrier to hopes and humor.

"If only there had been

EAST BLOC FARMERS RAP GRAIN POLICY

Withhold Support Of Wheat Board

Eastern farmers today refused to support a resolution endorsing all the operations of the Canadian Wheat Board until prairie wheat producers agreed to the stabilization of animal feed prices.

The resolution submitted at the annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture meeting here also urged the federal government to renew the Wheat Board Act to make it a permanent piece of legislation.

See earlier story Page 13.

Under the present set-up the act is renewed from year to year.

Eastern delegates said that while they were in favor of the Wheat Board they could not support it until prairie wheat producers agreed to take speculation out of the marketing of animal grains.

The action of the eastern delegates is an indication of the growing rift between farmers of eastern Canada and prairie grain producers.

British Columbia is favorable to the stand taken by eastern growers.

J. A. Marion, Montreal, second vice-president of the federation and Quebec delegates, said that farmers from Quebec were not in favor of all the operations of the Wheat Board.

"We eastern delegates represent thousands of Canadian farmers," he said, "and we have been asked to rectify the marketing of animal feeds. We cannot return home and tell our people that we endorsed the Wheat Board which controls the distribution of these feeds."

The resolution was referred to the federation's board of directors for immediate study. Both opposing parties will seek a solution to the problem.

Princess Kathleen Salvage Prospect

Divers to Examine Wreck Site

By MONTE ROBERTS
Times Marine Reporter

While survivors of the Canadian Pacific's cruise ship Ss. Princess Kathleen today prepared to battle for more than $300,000 in claims through United States courts, possibility of raising the sunken ship was again being discussed in waterfront circles here.

See Survivors' Claims Story Page 20

The ship, which went aground and sank on September 7, was officially abandoned to the underwriters September 27. A few days later, it was decided not to attempt salvage operations at that time, but to wait until spring for further surveys.

Although no definite date has been set, it is likely that divers will be sent to Point Lena, Alaska, as soon as weather permits, to assess the present position of the ship.

Well-informed marine men estimate cost of raising, repairing and refitting the ship at upwards of $3,000,000. The cost may be the determining factor, as Kathleen's normal "life span" has only about 10 years to go, and it would not be wise to spend too much raising a 30-year-old ship.

GOOD INVESTMENT

However, some marine men believe it would be a good investment, if only from a public relations standpoint for her owners. Kathleen was one of the best-liked ships ever to sail this coast, they say, and to bring her "back to life" would win wide acclaim from the public.

At least two B.C. salvage companies and one Seattle concern are reliably reported as actively interested in the job, if they received a go-ahead signal. However, it is unlikely that any company would risk tackling it without a guarantee against labor and materials.

Storm-Battered British Steamer Docks for Repair

Battered by Pacific storms, Ss. Huntsbrook, out of London, is in government graving dock at Esquimalt today, undergoing repairs by Yarrows Ltd.

During a recent crossing of the North Pacific, the British freighter took a heavy pounding, and it was necessary to replace a number of rivets below the waterline.

Work will be completed today, and the ship will leave drydock tomorrow morning.

Navy Conversion Job Contract Under Fire

Criticism of the Royal Canadian Navy's action in placing conversion of the destroyer HMCS Crescent at HMC Dockyard, and concern over future naval work, was expressed in a message to employees of Yarrows Ltd. today by E. W. Izard, general manager.

Writing in the employee publication, Yarrows Review, Mr. Izard said:

"It was disappointing to hear that HMCS Crescent will be converted at Dockyard. The conversion will be carried out to plans made by us for HMCS Algonquin."

"It is very disturbing to us that the navy should take on this job, after the effort all of us have made to turn out Algonquin in the best possible manner, through many difficulties. It is felt the experience we have gained on Algonquin would be of great help in the conversion of Crescent."

PROTEST

"We have vigorously protested to those in authority in Ottawa but it seems settled that the job will be done by Dockyard."

"We are very concerned about our future naval work. If the Dockyard continues to expand its facilities and manpower, it could be that they will soon be doing all the naval work, with nothing left for the competitive shipyards."

Mr. Izard also noted that it has been necessary to lay off a number of men during the last month due to lack of work. "It is regretted that there will be further layoffs as Algonquin reaches completion stage in February," he wrote.

A further comment touching on the navy stated: "During

New Creamy Rouge—
One You Can Manage

By PENNY SAVER

If you've despaired of mastering the subtleties of rouge application, and you've turned over cake and cream rouges that either left your cheeks flame red, or smudged and smeary with "hard to remove" circles of color—treat yourself to a wonderful new liquid rouge.

It has just arrived in town and is the first one put out by a very famous cosmetic company.

Silk tone liquid rouge is as easy to apply as foundation make-up. Its creamy fluid blends perfectly with your natural skin tones, leaving no trace of color beginning or ending, and giving a soft, flattering radiance to your complexion. If you've ever stepped forth into daylight after applying your make-up in a dimly lit powder room, and found your cheeks grotesquely Harlequin pink because you couldn't "feather out" the rouge hues, liquid rouge is your answer.

Even women who wear glasses will delight in this new type of rouge, which minimizes the chances of "color blotching" because of uneven rouge consistency.

You can apply this liquid rouge either on top of your foundation make-up, or even after you have applied your face powder.

For example, there's no need to blend it with the foundation make-up before adding a touch of rouge to the inner corners of the eyes, at the bridge of the nose. Liquid rouge will blend readily with your own skin tones.

Because this rouge is created to "melt" into your own skin tone, it comes in only three color shades, pink, coral and red. You merely keep in mind your own skin tone—light, medium or tawny—and select the rouge created for you.

If your skin has a tendency to dryness—you'll love the rouge's smooth creaminess—if your cheek flesh is not as firm as it should be, you won't "smudge" hard spots of color on your cheeks.

Liquid rouge does not rub off, but really stays on all day long. Sells at $1.50.

AS WE LIVE

Welfare and Support of Aged
Parent Concern of Family

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

The problem of elderly parents is becoming an increasingly important one today partly because people are living longer and partly because small houses and high taxes makes it difficult to have an extra person come to live with a family. This daughter raises the question of what to do about her mother:

(Q)—"I am appealing to you to settle the ancient problem of an aged mother and her children. There are always bickerings and arguments about who is to give and how much. There are some who give little but earn much. Others earn little but give more than they can afford. My husband earns little but what I give my mother cannot be written in ink in dollars and cents. I have looked after her since Dad died, 11 years ago. I see her more often, call her more often, and do more for her than any of the others. The others feel they are doing her a big favor when they otherwise ignore her but give her a few dollars. I am sure my case is not an isolated one. There are doubtless thousands like myself."

(A)—You are right, there are thousands of conscientious sons and daughters who find themselves in a position where they do far more than their share for an elderly parent. And, like yourself, the brothers and sisters feel it is their duty and hence the others shirk their responsibilities for the parent's care.

My suggestion is to call a family council of all brothers and sisters, plus their husbands and wives and any children who are old enough to comprehend the problem. The brother or sister who has had the responsibility dropped into his or her lap should take the initiative.

Place before the assembled family the problem in specific form. Let the family know what it costs to keep the mother and let each decide what he or she can afford to contribute, in time, money, or services, to the parent. The force of popular opinion, which is brought to bear on the laggards, usually makes them assume responsibilities they have hitherto shirked.

Elizabeth Hurlock is one of the nation's great psychologists, and she will gladly help you with personal problems.

Marks Birthday

Mrs. Annie Elliott, who celebrated her 92nd birthday yesterday, was honored when Mrs. A. B. Attwood and Mrs. Victor Acheson entertained at the home of the former on McClellan Street. The tea table, covered with an embroidered cloth was centered with an arrangement of tulips and daffodils. Mrs. Acheson and Mrs. Campbell presided and there were 15 guests.

Guild Hears
How Queen's
Robes Are Made

At recent meeting of Victoria Hand Weaver's Guild, Mrs. Francis E. Clarke read an article on making of the Coronation robes for Queen Elizabeth.

It described from the time the silk worms were especially fed at the silk factory in Lullingstone Castle, Kent. Forty pounds of silk is ordered for the Royal robes.

After the silk is spun it is sent to Glenford, Suffolk, for "throwster" a twisting and a doubling of the silk for strength. From there it is sent to Warrers' silk mill, Braintree, Sussex, to be hand woven by two weavers of 30 years' experience. From the mill it goes to the Royal robe makers, London, where it is cut by a 70-year-old cutter, and from there to Royal School of Needlework for the embroidering, after which it will be returned to Royal robe makers.

Among committee reports, Mrs. Yeomans described a successful meeting of study group where Mrs. Ethel Hammond demonstrated "bond" weaving and also taught her method of weaving handles for bags.

Mrs. Hazel Hodson showed colored slides of her trip abroad last summer.

Plan Party—At recent meeting of Alpha Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, plans were made for a Valentine party on February 14. Mesdames Jean Thompson and Dorothy Prentiss are in charge of arrangements. Plans for a rummage sale in April were also discussed and Miss Doris Hooper is convener. Mesdames Viola Bell and Ethel Orr presented "Fashions in the Dark Ages," together with a fashion show of that period.

Auxiliary Helps Cancer Clinic
And Hospital Patients in Year

Twenty-eight new beds for the Nurses' Home costing $800.79; easy-lift stretcher and medi-kar for maternity wards, $800.79; three wheel chairs for general wards, $877; 20 bed tables, $1,300; small tables for the Nurses' Home and drapes and a small table for a doctors' waiting room in the hospital, were all supplied to Royal Jubilee Hospital during the past year, it was reported at annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary, held Wednesday afternoon.

The cost of purchasing a bronchoscope, used in detecting cancer of the lungs, was also taken by the auxiliary and presented to the newly organized cancer clinic in the hospital.

Mrs. S. H. Okell presided and the secretary, Mrs. P. E. Corby, also reported that holiday cheer had been provided and patients and the wards decorated. There are 52 active members, she said, 155 associate and one life member.

Treasurer, Mrs. F. J. Boughton announced the year's receipts as $3,543.37, disbursements as $3,793.99, and a balance of $813.16.

Mrs. R. Hallas said 560 articles of sewing were finished in the year. Other reports were given by Mrs. P. E. Taylor, dues; Mrs. L. Patterson, buying; Mrs. H. S. Southin, press, and Mrs. J. F. Hough, telephone.

Retiring president, Mrs. S. H. Okell, spoke briefly, reminding members of more than 50 years of service given to the hospital and patients by the auxiliary. She presented retiring secretary, Mrs. Corby and Mrs. Boughton with gifts and in turn with Mrs. Corby, was presented with a gift by Mrs. E. Sheppard on behalf of the auxiliary.

Nominating committee convener, Mrs. A. V. Price, announced the following officers for the new year: President, Mrs. W. G. Crawford; first vice-president, Mrs. C. C. Annett; second, Mrs. W. G. Thorpe; secretary, Mrs. J. H. Newton; treasurer, Mrs. Boughton; dues, Mrs. Taylor; sewing, Mrs. Hallas; buying, Mrs. H. B. Nash; publicity, Mrs. Southin; telephone, Mrs. Hough, and corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. C. Andrew.

Special guests, all of whom spoke briefly, were George Worthington, Miss M. Plunkett Masters and Dr. J. Murray Anderson, administrator, and assistant administrator of the Junior Auxiliary; Alderman F. G. Mulliner, J. C. Thow, president of the board of directors; J. H. Webster, representing the Alumnae Association, Mrs. H. Webster, president of the Junior Auxiliary, and Miss Lucie Woodrow, superintendent of nurses.

Barbara Brent's
BUYS AND WHYS
A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, January 20th—I have a financial programme that's working out beautifully. I'll be able to have the house painted and go on a two-week vacation trip this year—and still buy a fur coat in the fall. How do I do it? The BANK OF MONTREAL's Personal Planning system of family financing is the key to my happy state of affairs. You see, it's taught me how to save regularly. And now I've discovered, thanks to Personal Planning, how to spend without using up my BoM Savings Account. I simply borrow against it! Then, when I've paid back my low-cost Personal Loan, I still have my nest-egg, complete. Frankly, I don't know how I ever got along without Personal Planning (the fact is, I didn't, very well!). Why don't you try it, too? Ask for your free copy of "Personal Planning" at your neighborhood branch of the BoM tomorrow.

The Good Things in Life come in twos, I find... good companions; good luck—and HEINZ TOMATO KETCHUP. Yes, I always buy two bottles of Heinz Ketchup at a time—one for the kitchen and one for the table. The folks love its spicy, exciting flavour with all kinds of foods—and I couldn't get along without it when I'm cooking. It works wonders to pep up leftovers, steaks and casseroles—and that's not surprising. Because Heinz Ketchup is made of ripe, red "Aristocrat" tomatoes spiced and seasoned to perfection by Heinz's experienced chefs. Ask your grocer for Heinz Ketchup next time you're shopping and discover for yourself how good it is.

Home From The Office or from shopping... feeling all tickled out? Then I'd suggest you try the tastiest "perk-me-up" I know—INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE. It's quick and easy to make—takes no longer than boiling the water. And isn't it good? The flavour's there—and the body—and the real lift... thanks to the Chase & Sanborn coffee experts. I always keep a jar handy. It's a real friend when I'm feeling tired... and a real delight when guests drop in. You see, it's easy to make ten cups as one. And so economical. The regular size jar of Instant Chase & Sanborn gives you the same number of cups as a pound of ground coffee and there's a big difference in price.

A Treat For The High-Chair Set... Cream of Wheat, the hot cereal for quick start! It's a nourishing, wholesome food for babies every mother should know about. Babies just gobble it up. And Quick CREAM OF WHEAT is so good for them... rich in quick-starting food energy... iron for good red blood, and calcium and phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. And it's so easy to prepare. Just five minutes of boiling and Enriched Quick Cream of Wheat is cooked to baby-ready digestibility—smooth and tempting. Everybody enjoys it—from Baby to Grandpa!

All Those People Can't Be Wrong. Of course, I've been a Heinz Soup "fan" for a long time. So I agree with the folks who, in dozens of taste tests, voted them "tops." Yes, delicious, young folks and groups of average housewives were overwhelmingly in favour of Heinz Condensed Soups. Why not make a taste test yourself? And, as a starter, have HEINZ CREAM OF TOMATO SOUP for dinner tomorrow. Made of ripest, "Aristocrat" tomatoes—spiced and seasoned to perfection—it's a real delight. And here's something you might not know about it. The cream has been put in it by the Heinz chefs... all you do is add water for the richest, creamiest cream of tomato soup you've ever tasted.

You Know, In This Coronation Year my thoughts just naturally turn to England, and if, like me, you have ever had to find your way around London by bus, you'll know how well that system of using different coloured buses to identify the various routes works out. Well, here's a colour system you can use in buying tissue handkerchiefs. For the strongest, softest 2-PLY tissues ever, get FACE-ELLE in the green box. For the extra cushioned thickness of 3-PLY tissues, get Face-ELLE in the pink box. You can also get 3-PLY Face-ELLE in Man-size and in Pastels... but in regular white tissues, the green box means 2-PLY and the pink box means 3-PLY... and believe me, either box contains Canada's finest tissue handkerchiefs.

Here's Extra Protection For You. Your favourite BLUE BONNET DE LUXE MARGARINE now has each golden-yellow quarter individually wrapped in pure aluminum foil with inner parchment lining. Truly "De Luxe" protection for Blue Bonnet's sunnysweet flavour! You'll find De Luxe Blue Bonnet extra convenient, too. Just unwrap what you need and serve. No slicing, scooping, or re-wrapping. And you can forget your measuring cup when you're cooking with De Luxe Blue Bonnet. The handy chart on the package shows exactly where to cut for recipes. Ask for De Luxe Blue Bonnet Margarine, and get all these "De Luxe" advantages—and Blue Bonnet "De Luxe" quality, too.

Silver Tea—Ganges United Church. Sunday school sponsored a silver tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Moutat. During the afternoon guests were entertained by Mrs. L. G. Moutat and Mrs. E. J. Ashlee, vocal and pianoforte selections. The hostess was assisted by Mesdames H. McGill, L. Talbot, Jack Tomlinson, Misses Wilma McGill and Geraldine Krebs. Proceeds of the tea will go towards equipment for the young people's work in the basement of the church.

Fulford Meeting—Ladies' Aid, Burgoyne Bay United Church, held its annual meeting at the Fulford Harbor home of Mrs. R. H. Lee, with Mrs. H. E. Townsend in the chair. Election of officers was as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. Thomas Reid; president, Mrs. H. E. Townsend; vice-president, Mrs. J. Campbell; secretary, Mrs. Fergus Reid; treasurer, Mrs. W. A. Bridgen. Plans were made for a sale of work and silver tea in April. Tea was served by Mrs. R. H. Lee and Mrs. C. Lee.

New Program Director at 'Y' Is a Vivacious Young Australian

By DAWN VAN NORMAN

Another label can be added to the already colorfully patterned luggage of Miss Mary Wollaston, who has traveled through 15 different countries since she left her home in Adelaide, Australia, nine months ago.

The vivacious young Australian arrived in Victoria last week-end to take the position of program director at the YWCA. "In coming to this city," she said, "I realized a life-long ambition of traveling through the Rockies."

Miss Wollaston recalls that ever since her earliest school days she has wanted to visit Canada and see the Rockies.

Always interested in the work of the "Y," she left her homeland with a friend, Miss Mildred Howard, an executive director with the "Y," to study youth programs in other countries.

The expedition started when Mary, a "banker" employed in the National Bank of Australia, was given a year's leave of absence. Miss Howard decided to go along, take in the International YWCA conference in Germany in July, and work in "Y's" along the way.

TRANCE SHATTERED

Thanks to the many friends they had made through "Y" in Australia they were "treated royally."

In Bombay their every-day view of "the diamond necklace"—almost a complete circle of modern buildings where lights sparkle at night like jewels—was mixed with verdant scenery and vultures circling over the tower where the Parsees leave their dead.

"We were not as entranced after we saw that," Miss Wollaston exclaimed.

During her travels, Miss Wollaston and her friend went to an international conference on "Y" work at Gelnhausen, Germany.

"The work there is still quite hampered," the young traveler reported. "Since 1933, when Hitler took over, youth work had been carried on almost entirely in the churches."

"Activities are limited to Bible study, music and drama, with little of the sports and social programs you have here."

With other members of the conference, she made an uneasy visit to Vienna, Austria. "The city was quiet but the atmosphere was tense," Miss Wollaston remembers. "I saw many Russian soldiers in the streets and was warned not to go out alone since people were

"mysteriously" disappearing all the time."

A tour through Tyrol, the Alps, where they saw their first snow, France, England and Scotland, where they worked at YWCA centres for several months was followed by the voyage to New York.

"A former 'Y' staffer, now with the United Nations, took us on a tour of the new UN building and for dinner in the delegates' dining room," she related.

While crossing the continent to Victoria the "Y" worker was entertained by many members of the organization she had met at the conference in Germany.

Miss Wollaston plans to remain with the "Y" here until June when she will join her friend, who is working with the "Y" in Winnipeg and again make up the team which has become known as the "Kangaroo Kids." This happy nickname has become popular with their many friends all over the world.

From Canada, the two girls will return to England and hope

Nursing Home Auxiliary Starts Fourth Year With Fine Record

The end of the third active year for Victoria Nursing Home Auxiliary sees 26 members visiting, sewing and sponsoring money-making projects for the hospital. President Mrs. C. C. Warren said at annual meeting and installation of officers in Oak Bay Beach Hotel, Wednesday evening.

The auxiliary was entertained at dinner in the private dining room of the hotel by president F. E. Winslow, and the board of directors of the hospital, prior to the meeting.

Mrs. Warren acted as chairman and in her annual report show 40 visits made to the hospital by members during the year.

Ice cream and books were distributed; special treats arranged on Valentine Day, Easter, Mother's and Father's Days; gifts were placed on breakfast trays with cards of greetings from the auxiliary at Christmas.

The sewing committee made 202 pillow cases, 16 draw sheets, 10 pajamas, 140 pads, 12 air cushion covers and 87 plastic bibs.

Treasurer's report, given by Mrs. C. Aitken and Mrs. I. Wooley showed that $2,617.69 was raised in the year and that the auxiliary had a balance in the bank of $3,766.09 to assist with furnishings of the new addition of the hospital.

Moneys were raised through a Scottish Revue, $1,004.35; sewing tea, $74.50; garden party, $792.54; poinsettia tea, $607.41; fashion show, rummage sale and birthday box.

Installation of officers, conducted by Mr. Winslow was as follows:

Mrs. Warren, returned son, Dr. Laura Holland, Mr. and as president for fourth year; Mrs. A. E. Stevens, Dr. J. W. Mrs. R. K. Simpson, vice-president; Mrs. Lennox, Mrs. Florence Mutrie, Mrs. Margaret Macintosh, Mrs. M. Sears and Miss M. Gil-Gayton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. G. Aitken, treasurer; Mesdames C. E. Coleman, G. Horwood, A. A. Banks and S. Warren for her year's work and Mrs. M. Vickers thanked retiring officers. Mrs. Naysmith told the gathering that cost of the 100-bed addition would be borne by the city, the provincial and the dominion governments.

Seated at the head table with Mrs. Warren and Mr. Winslow were Mrs. Margaret Christie, including pianoforte solos by honorary president of the auxiliary; Mr. Warren, Mrs. Winslow, Mrs. Simpson, Dr. and pictures were shown in the lower lounge.

Quick cheese soup with vegetables added is a cinch to make with a hand-size electric beater to handle the heavy mixing.

Cheese Soup Is a Meal

Ever try cheese soup as a main luncheon dish? You should like it, particularly if you have one of those hand-size electric beaters to do the heavy work lightly for you.

QUICK CHEESE SOUP (Serves 4)

Two tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 carrots, peeled and grated, 3 medium onions, grated, 2 to 3 tablespoons sifted flour, 2 cups well-seasoned chicken stock (if not available, use canned chicken bouillon and water), 8 ounces Cheddar cheese (grated), 2 cups milk, salt and white pepper to taste.

Melt butter in top part of double boiler over low flame. Add vegetables and braise for 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Blend in flour, and cook for 1 minute, stirring constantly.

Add chicken stock, and cook until thickened, stirring oc-asionally. Place over boiling water in lower part of double boiler; add cheese. Beat with rotary or whirl beater until cheese has melted (about 2 minutes).

Add enough milk to thin soup to consistency of cream. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Serve hot or well chilled with crisp croutons.

This soup need not be strained. However, if you wish to serve it strained, put soup through sieve, and reheat if necessary.

Here's a good cheese dish we had recently for lunch. We cut up all the odds and ends of cheese in the refrigerator, Cheddar, processed sharp cheese, and a few pieces of Swiss cheese. Then a pot was greased lightly with bacon fat and into the pot went one can condensed tomato soup. The cut up cheese (nearly 5 pounds) went into the soup, and all cooked in the double boiler until the cheese was thoroughly melted. Then in went 1/2 cup milk.

All was beaten with our little electric hand-size beater until smooth, and seasoned with salt, Cayenne and Worcestershire. Serve very hot over unbuttered slices of toast.

Quick Spanish Rice

Saute 1 thinly-sliced medium onion in 2 tbsps. butter until tender, not browned. Add 3/4 cups canned tomatoes, 1 1/2 tbsps. salt, 1 tsp. sugar, 1/2 tsp. pepper, blend well. Add 1 package Minute Rice. Bring quickly to the boil, stirring gently with fork once or twice. (Do not stir.) Cover, remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes. Delicious served with crisp sausages or bacon. Serves 5 or 6.

Quicker Way to Make Thrifty Spanish Rice

Always a favorite — here's Spanish Rice that's now made in minutes! See the easy-to-fix recipe.

With pre-cooked Minute Rice, a host of delicious, time-saving supper dishes and rice puddings are at your fingertips. Minute Rice is grand, too, for "dressing-up" left-overs... makes a wonderful alternative for potatoes. The only rice of its kind.

COMPARE!

OLD WAY

- 1st STEP Remove inferior rice kernels. Wash carefully.
- 2nd STEP Slowly pour into salted boiling water. Boil briskly, stirring often, until kernels are soft. (Up to 25 minutes!)
- 3rd STEP Drain rice in sieve.
- 4th STEP Pour boiling water over rice until grains are separate.
- 5th STEP Steam rice 5 to 10 minutes.
- 6th STEP Time—40 minutes. Utensils to wash—2 pans, 1 sieve.

NEW WAY

- 1st STEP Add Minute Rice to water and salt, in saucepan.
- 2nd STEP Bring to a full rolling boil. Cover; remove from heat and let stand 10 minutes.
- Time—15 minutes. Utensils to wash—1 pan.

Pre-cooked Minute Rice needs no washing, no rinsing, no draining, no steaming... always cooks to tempting tenderness, with each grain plump, fluffy and separate.

(BB TO A) "THE TURNING POINT" (Capitol): As was proven in Vancouver a few days ago, a good crime reporter can be of immense value to the police and other forces working for the good of the community.

by exposing in print for the public things that are going on behind the scenes of organized crime.

"The Turning Point" is a sound, realistic film about a police beat reporter in a large American city who does just that. Jerry McKibben (William Holden) finally sides with old hoodlum pal John Conroy (Edmund O'Brien) who is head of a crime busting committee seeking to break up the Eichelberger syndicate. Before McKibben is through with his potent type-writer the bad boys are hopping and so is the action.

For one thing, McKibben turns up the fact that Conroy's own dad is in the pay of the Eichelberger crowd. But this does no one any good because the hoods cook it up so that McKibben senior is bumped off. It does, however, set the fuse that blows the works, starts the wheels of justice into motion. In the end, the desperate crooks blow up the building housing their records that would incriminate them if they should fall into the hands of the hard-driving police. In the explosion innocent men, women and children are killed and a discouraged Conroy all but gives up his battle. He has lost his father, his girl, Amanda Waycross, played by Alexis Smith, and seemingly his fight.

How all this works out to the detriment of the criminals is worth seeing. This is a much better than average newspaper story. Holden, O'Brien, Miss Smith, Tom Tully as Matt Conroy, Ed Begley as Eichelberger, are all excellent. Kudos are also in order for the firm directorial hand of William Dieterle.

PUBLICITY FOR VANCOUVER

British Columbia Stage Stars Hailed in London

LONDON (CP)—A star team from Vancouver has brought the British Columbia city chunks of publicity in London's show business circles.

Bernard Braden, better known to British fans as a comedian, and leading lady Joan Miller, both from Vancouver, started theatre audiences with the last play to appear in 1952, "The Man."

Critics found it a shocker to end all shockers and weren't sure they liked it, but nearly all agreed that Braden and Miss Miller were devastating.

To celebrate the occasion, British Columbia officials in London gave a party in which the emphasis was on Vancouver. Norman Robertson, Canadian High Commissioner in London, came along to say a few words of congratulation.

A review of "The Man" by the Continental Daily Mail of Paris said that the British theatre had had to wait for the last week of the year for the best performance, that of Braden. In London a weekly newspaper praised Miss Miller for "un-hibited, all-stops-out acting on a level rarely seen in the West End these days."

Audience Transfixed by Beauty Of Swirling Ballet's Patterns

BY AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

In a spell of beauty, a deep, attentive hush fell over the capacity audience at the Royal Theatre Wednesday night. It was an instinctive response to the swirling patterns, the flowing lines and rich monochrome of color that formed the Winnipeg Ballet's "Concerto" to music by Rachmaninoff.

This superbly conceived number, choreographed by Gweneth Lloyd, has the simplest possible setting and costumes. Against a cunningly lit backdrop that shimmered with all tones of the blue-violet third of the spectrum, the dancers moved like an incarnation of color, the visual counterpart of the music.

It is less than a year since the Winnipeg Ballet's last visit to Victoria, but marked improvement in the timing and co-ordination of the ensemble was to be seen. This was often quite breathtaking in exactitude; such moments, for instance, as the striking finale of the "Concerto." Jean Stoneham, the soloist in this piece, a finely disciplined and lovely dancer.

"Arabesque," which opened the program, though it featured some admirable dancing by Eva von Gency, Marina Katronis and Arnold Spohr, and again the crisp precision of the corps-de-ballet, seemed an over-long diversion, lacking spirit and leaning rather toward the mechanical. The third classical item consisted of excerpts from Tchaikovsky's "Sleeping Beauty." These were all "star" numbers. The first, "Bluebird Variations," was danced by Carla Carter and Victoria's Bill McGrath. Miss Carter who has recently returned to Canada after dancing with the Sadler's Wells company, is a dainty ballerina, having great poise and sensitivity.

But it was in the "Shooting of Dan McGrew" that these two found opportunity for their ability as mimists—an ability as important to the dancer as the possession of two good feet.

This delightful parody is one of the company's famous numbers. The clever choreography is by Gweneth Lloyd, music composed and arranged by conductor Eric Wild and brilliant costumes and scenario by David Yeddeau.

The "rootin'-tootin'" spirit of the piece is complete, with gaudy gals, shooting irons, a light-footed, dapper sprig of a barkeeper (McGrath), tough prospectors (Gordon Wales and Victor Duret), and the "Lady Known as Lou," danced with verve by Eva von Gency.

Roger Fisher was an effectively menacing and swash-buckling McGrew. Spohr's entry on snowshoes as the "Stranger" was one of the most entertaining moments in a strikingly styled ballet.

When the new waitress came to Nick's cafe, Mabel feared she would lose her shiftless Charley. But Linda's appearance on the scene gave Mabel and Charley a new lease on life and actually strengthened the romantic ties between them.

The Nest

At thirteen, Jimmy felt that home was a nest where his mother's wing dominated. But when mother one day admitted she could be wrong, Jimmy suddenly found himself outside the nest, free to make his own decisions. Oh, what a nostalgic feeling!

'Saucer' Stories Impress Bill Boss

VANCOUVER (CP)—Flying saucers are no longer a joke to Bill Boss, Canadian Press war correspondent.

Back from Korea, he said in an interview Wednesday that he is impressed with the reports of flying saucers—disks, clusters "or whatever they are called."

Boss told of reports from "seven independent" pilots on the same day, January 9.

"There is more to this than we all thought," he said. "I think the story of the disks was the most significant to come out of Japan."

The evidence of the pilots, two of whom "looked" with the objects, "is too strong to be dismissed."

One disk kept its distance from the 700-mile-an-hour jet in a straight line and then drew away.

The sky clusters, he said, were always reported out from the Russian-held island of Sakhalin or the Russian-held mainland.

"It looks like a Russian experiment," a reporter asked.

"It looks like a Russian accomplishment," Boss replied.

The United States Air Force announced Tuesday from a base in northern Japan that a small, metallic, disk-shaped object made a controlled, sweeping pass at an American Thunderjet last March 29. It was observed at close range by another pilot.

Earlier, the Air Force disclosed that "rotating clusters of red, white and green lights" had been sighted over northern Japan.

$300,000 In Claims Arising Out of Sinking To Be Filed

SAN FRANCISCO—Claims totaling more than $300,000 will be filed next week in the District Court of the United States at Seattle by the "Kathleen Survivors Committee," composed of some 180 passengers who sailed on the ill-fated cruise ship S.S. Princess Kathleen, which struck on the rocky Point Lena coast near Juneau, Alaska, and sank last September 7.

In their suit against the Canadian Pacific Railway, owners of the sunken vessel, claimants say they were offered payment of only part of the unused portion of their cruise passage fare. No provision was made by the ship owners for baggage, clothing and personal effects lost.

Meantime, Canadian Pacific has petitioned the Federal Court at Seattle to be relieved of any liability over $69,504.14 which constitutes a part-rebate of the cruise ship tickets.

The petition also asks the court to recognize a sum amounting to more than $27,000 which the company claims was in the cost involved in transporting the survivors from their stranded position where the ship struck to places where they could get home, such as Juneau.

This amount, the company pleads, should be deducted from the $69,504.15 ticket rebate.

To press their claim, the committee has engaged the Seattle admiralty law firm of Evans, McLaren, Lane, Powell and Beeks and their San Francisco affiliates, Derby, Sharp, Quinby and Tweed.

Most of the "survivors" are San Francisco Bay area residents but another group of 25 passengers from Los Angeles County have joined the San Francisco group in the suit.

The cruise, under the sponsorship of the Young Men's Institute, left here last August 31 billed as the YMI-Alaska Cruise on a 14-day trip into Alaska waters. The crash and sinking interrupted the cruise after the vessel left Vancouver for Juneau.

SHIP CAPTAIN DISAPPEARS

TOKYO (Reuters)—The master of a 7,265-ton British freighter, Capt. E. Mockton, disappeared from his ship at sea in the Pacific Monday, the owner's agents reported here. The ship was due at Yokohama Wednesday from Brazil.

After 108 Years British Co-Ops Seen Standing Still

LONDON (UP)—The British co-operative movement, now 108 years old, seems to be standing still.

Its membership continues to grow and now exceeds 11,020,000. Indeed, the number of registrations for rationed goods, for the last half of 1952 and the first half of 1953, reported by the local co-operative societies, are a new all-time high at 14,220,000 for sugar, 14,086,000 for butter and fats, 14,086,000 for cheese, 12,870,000 for bacon and 7,738,000 for meat.

With total registrations for the whole country standing at 50,250,000, the co-ops can claim to be serving 28 per cent of all retail consumers of sugar and, at the other extreme, at least 15 per cent of all consumers of meat.

But rationed goods stand in a class by themselves. It is when the leaders of the co-operative movement examine all the other types of consumer goods that they get a shock.

The following table shows the percentage of the country's total trade in consumer goods which the co-operatives can claim as their own:

Year	Pct.	Year	Pct.
1938	10.73	1945	11.51
1939	10.72	1946	11.03
1940	11.05	1947	10.20
1941	11.21	1948	10.26
1942	11.08	1949	10.53
1943	11.73	1950	10.91
1944	11.83	1951	10.86

Thus instead of doing, say, one-quarter of the country's retail trade, they are bogged down with a turnover representing only some 10 to 12 per cent of the total.

Incidentally, this table plays havoc with the optimistic statistics which fill existing books and pamphlets devoted to the British co-operative movement.

Those statistics, in the absence of authoritative government figures, had to be based on amateur guesses as to the country's total volume of sales of foodstuffs and other consumer goods. They all greatly underestimated the overall totals.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

By EDWIN JORDAN, MD

Prompt Diagnosis, Treatment Often Rout Lobar Pneumonia

Perhaps there is nothing which so astounds a physician who has been in practice even as recently as 20 years ago as what has happened to lobar pneumonia. This formerly common infection of the lungs used to be known as the "old people's friend" because it so often proved an easy and painless final illness.

Today, lobar pneumonia is almost a rare disease, and when it does occur recovery is the rule. The speed with which this occurs is amazing to those who remember what it used to be.

It is interesting, and even now important, to discuss this disease.

A typical case starts suddenly with a severe chill which may last for as long as half an hour. Soon after the chill, the temperature begins to go up and it rises rapidly to around 104 or 105 degrees. At the same time a person coming down with pneumonia may have general aches and pains with headache.

EARLY COUGH

Pain in the chest or side like that which is present in pleurisy, is also common. Cough which produces pain, and does not bring up much mucus, starts early. The breathing becomes rapid and each breath is shallow.

These symptoms can be confused with other conditions, but are certainly suspicious of lobar pneumonia. Examination of the chest by a physician and especially taking an X-ray film generally brings a diagnosis early.

Unless steps are taken to treat the condition promptly, the typical signs develop by the second or third day. By this time cold sores around the lips are likely to be present, the facial expression shows anxiety, the pain in the side or chest is severe and the breathing is rapid. Cough brings up a fair amount of sputum which is likely to be tinged with blood. The temperature stays high, at 104 or 105 degrees.

BRINGS RELIEF

Penicillin and its relatives almost always bring remarkable improvement in a short time. A quick fall in temperature and relief of the cough and pain occur promptly. The breathing becomes slow and normal and no longer is it necessary to wait for the crisis to know what the outcome will be.

Today there is only about one chance in 20 or 25 of dying from the disease instead of one chance in three. Lobar pneumonia has dropped from being one of the most important causes of death to being one of the least important of the major diseases.

But remember, the diagnosis must be made early and treatment started promptly, because the results are much more likely to be favorable than if pneumonia has been present for several days.

Knighthood for Steel Chief Precipitates Labor Fight

LONDON (Reuters) — The left and right wings of Britain's Labor Party are swinging at each other in earnest again, ending a truce which seemed to have patched up the long-standing feud.

The right wing—the orthodox trade-union leadership—landed most of the haymakers Wednesday on the faction led by Aneurin Bevan.

The gong which started the current round was a knighthood awarded to the steel workers' union chief by Prime Minister Winston Churchill's Conservative administration in the New Year's honors list.

Lincoln Evans became Sir Lincoln "in recognition of public services." Mr. Churchill apparently calculated the move to improve his relations with the workers in the steel industry, which he proposes soon to hand back to private enterprise.

The leftist Weekly Tribune, which reflects Bevan's policy—his wife is an editor—attacked the knighthood as "surely one of the strangest events in the history of the labor movement" and rapped Sir Lincoln for accepting it.

"TORY TRICK"

The Tribune contended it was a "Tory trick" to gain Sir Lincoln's support for steel de-nationalization.

Sir Lincoln, 63, is general secretary of the Iron and Steel Trades Confederation.

His reply to the article: "Political smart alecs."

On Wednesday the general council of the Trades Union Congress demanded of the Labor Party: "Can nothing be done to stop this sniping at the unions?"

The party executive committee replied with a resolution deprecating attacks on union chiefs.

The unions form the main body of the Labor Party and control most of the party fundraising program. Union chiefs resent Bevan and his policy of "more socialism and less truck with the U.S."

Chlorine Leak Menaces Lives

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP)—A green wave of escaping chlorine gas engulfed workers at a pulp and paper mill here Wednesday and sent 31 of them to hospital, some in critical condition.

A physician indicated that some might not survive. Three suffered chest burns from the searing gas, used in bleaching pulp.

The gas rolled through the caustic plant of the Potlatch Forest Inc. mill and escaped from the building in billowing waves after an employee with an acetylene torch accidentally cut through a chlorine pipe.

The victims stumbled into corridors in haggard, coughing groups, the stronger men supporting the weaker.

Conference Aimed At Breaking UN

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A San Francisco conference to abolish the United Nations will be held February 5 and 6, Gerald L. K. Smith, head of the Christian Nationalist Party, announced Wednesday. The theme of the two-day session, said Smith will be "take the U.S. out of the UN and the UN out of the U.S."

Six Reds Executed

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Six convicted Communist agents were executed today, bringing the total since Nov. 26 to 85.

Secondary Schools Enrollment to Double

OTTAWA (CP)—Enrollment in secondary schools in all provinces except Quebec is expected to double in the next 12 years, the bureau of statistics reported today.

The bureau based its estimate on the number of births, post-war immigration and the increasing proportion of children remaining in school beyond the compulsory age.

53 Drown When Korea Ferry Sinks With 140 Aboard

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—The transportation ministry said today 53 passengers were drowned when the ferry Good Fortune sank off the west coast Sunday.

The ministry said 87 passengers survived.

The ferry carried 140 Koreans, almost double its rated capacity of 75, plus a heavy cargo.

Newspapers said scores were hurt as panic swept the ferry.

The government is investigating the tragedy and is holding the captain-owner for questioning.

Fire on Biggest Ship Gives Rise To 'Suspicion'

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)—Fire of suspicious origin broke out in a main-deck cabin of the Cunard liner Queen Elizabeth, world's biggest ship, as she lay in drydock here Wednesday night.

It was quickly put out by swarms of shipboard and Southampton firefighters.

Investigators of the criminal investigation department are not satisfied the fire was accidental.

More than three hours after the mid-evening blaze was detected, Chief Constable Charles Box summed up his initial inquiries in the ship by saying in a statement to reporters:

"In the circumstances we must regard this fire with some suspicion."

Youth Group Studies Contemporary Politics

An organizational meeting of the Canadian Commonwealth Youth Movement was held Tuesday at the home of Frank Snow, M.L.A.

The group elected Roger Cannon chairman and Elsie Jernst secretary to head the program of social and educational activities planned.

As their first project the group plans to take in a session of parliament early in February.

The political and economic conditions of the country will be studied and discussed.

At Tuesday's meeting Mr. Snow spoke briefly on the changing ideas of Canadian society.

The group also heard the ideas of Carl Hamilton, national president of the CCYM, who addressed the group of young people Jan. 13, were also discussed.

Israelis Again Burn Red Library

JERUSALEM (BUP)—The Russian bookshop in Jerusalem was set afire today for the second time in two weeks.

The entire front of the store was burned out, causing several thousands dollars' damage. Police have arrested several suspects.

A fire was started in the shop on Ben Yehuda Street exactly two weeks ago amid the angry reaction by Jews to the Soviet announcement of the arrest of six Jewish leaders on charges of attempting to murder leading Russians.

NEWS BRIEFS

Ronald B. Worley, executive assistant to Premier W. A. C. Bennett, has been named a fellow of the Chartered Institute of Secretaries.

The organization is a professional institute of secretaries of joint stock companies and public bodies.

Clarence A. Billett, 1969 Foul Bay Road, was given a six-month suspended sentence by Magistrate H. C. Hall when he was found guilty in city police court Wednesday on a charge of threatening.

He had threatened his father-in-law Allan Collier, city police janitor, with "this is not the finish; I'm coming to get you," the complainant said.

Billett was ordered to post two sureties of $250 each to ensure his good behavior toward Collier for six months.

DUNCAN—City council will recommend to the Rotary Club, sponsors of the Victorian Order of Nurses plan for Duncan, that the cost of the service would be too high for the results achieved.

First year cost for one nurse and car was placed at $8,300, and yearly cost thereafter $5,800.

"Based on the information we have, it looks as if hospital treatment would be as cheap," said Mayor J. C. Wragg.

DUNCAN—Officers who will handle a June 2 Coronation celebration here are V. T. Shindler, chairman; W. S. Sharp, secretary; J. E. Moore, treasurer; Canon T. M. Hughes, padre; William MacGuire, publicity.

All local organizations have been invited to a meeting Feb. 5 with the exhibition board, Canadian Legion, riding club, reserve army, and ministerial associations taking the lead.

The historic principality of Liechtenstein between Austria and Switzerland has an area of 60 square miles.

New Queen's Crown

Shown in its initial plaster form, the design above has been approved for the obverse side of the commemorative crown piece, to be issued through Great Britain's banks during the Coronation Year of 1953. The special crown, largest metal monetary unit in Britain's currency, will be of special interest to coin collectors. Queen Elizabeth II is represented as being on horseback, wearing the uniform of Colonel-in-Chief of the Grenadier Guards.

John Halstead Re-Elected Recreation Council Head

Mrs. W. B. Mortimer, chairman of the Sixty-Up Club, and Mr. Halstead, chairman of play grounds.

Elected to the board of directors for two-year terms were: Dr. Anderson, Mrs. Mortimer, establishment of a Greater Victoria Recreation Commission, which would function through funds provided by the four municipal governments.

The council decided to continue to press for such a commission, and attempt to educate the public to the value of such a body.

John Halstead, 1037 Lyall Street, was re-elected president of the Recreation Council of Greater Victoria at the annual meeting Wednesday at Spencer House.

Dr. Henrietta Anderson was named secretary of the council; Mrs. M. Broadley, treasurer; G. A. Ross, chairman of publicity; for establishment of a service men's hostel here.

Principal matter of discussion was the council's plan for Mrs. Broadley, Harold B. Whitfield, H. F. Ketchell, Miss C. Kennedy, A. Bowker and D. E. Kaye.

The president reported on the disposition of Prince Robert House and renewed efforts

It was noted that since 1949, the University of B.C. has turned out 125 bachelors of physical fitness. It was suggested one of these should head the advocated recreation commission.

Recreation commissions already function in 129 Canadian cities and towns, the meeting was told.

RELIGIOUS FIRE
AKRON, O. (UP)—The fire that the Rev. Dallas F. Billington started here was cause for rejoicing and not prosecution. He burned the final mortgage papers on the million-dollar temple of his Baptist congregation just three years and seven months after moving in time, although he had been told it would be 20 years before the mortgage could be paid off.

Ban Lifted

HALIFAX (CP)—President J. E. Hudson of the Maritime Major Hockey League has lifted his ban on games between Charlottetown Islanders and Halifax Atlantics at the Charlottetown Forum.

The ban, imposed after objects were tossed onto the ice and the referees complained they had no dressing-room privacy, was lifted Wednesday after the Forum management said steps will be taken to prevent such incidents in the future.

BEST FOOD YOUR DOG EVER ATE!

Gaines Meal Nourishes every inch of your dog

YES, that's what Gaines does . . . supplies your dog with a completely balanced diet . . . fills him with happiness and glowing health . . . so he's more fun for you! Each pound contains:

- for strength—protein as in 1 1/2 lbs. beef
- for energy—carbohydrates as in 2 quarts cooked oatmeal
- for appearance—fat as in 1 1/2 oz. butter
- for bones and teeth—minerals as in 2 1/2 lbs. cheese
- for blood—iron as in 8 lbs. beef liver

Plenty of MEAT MEAL

For variety, give your dog a little KRUNCHON, which is Gaines Meal compressed into bite-sized pellets.

GAINES is concentrated food—costs less to feed than any other type of dog food! A 5-lb. bag of Gaines makes 10 to 12 lbs. of ready-to-eat dog food. All you do is add water!

Million-Dollar Blaze Sweeps Oil Refinery in Turner Valley Town

TURNER VALLEY, Alta. (BUP)—Firemen using chemicals today smothered a $1,000,000 fire which destroyed a large section of an oil refinery near this southern Alberta oil centre.

Five men with serious face and body burns were in hospital here as a result of a freak explosion at the Gas and Oil Refineries Ltd. plant just south of the town near Hartell, about 40 miles southwest of Calgary.

The blast touched off a devastating blaze which raged for nearly 20 hours and levelled 16 oil storage tanks and three buildings. A light fall of snow added a weird touch to the lurid scene.

An RCMP officer of the Turner Valley detachment said the fire was put shortly before dawn, leaving the refinery "a complete shambles."

He said damage was estimated "at more than $1,000,000."

The fire broke out in one corner of the sprawling plant Wednesday when natural gasoline leaked from a pipe into a red-hot furnace used to process the crude oil from surrounding wells in the rich Turner Valley oil field.

A natural gasoline storage tank exploded with a thunderous roar, setting off a chain of blasts as flames spread to other tanks containing diesel oil and gasoline. Two other small buildings were levelled but nearly a score of homes near the refinery were saved by a steady wind fanning the flames away from the buildings.

Some of the world's largest tin supplies come from mines in Bolivia that yielded silver in ancient times.

FARMERS SEEK PROTECTION FOR SMALL FRUIT INDUSTRY

A resolution asking the federal government to take some action to protect Canada's small fruit industry was endorsed at the annual convention of Canadian Federation of Agriculture here Wednesday.

The resolution was submitted to the convention by British Columbia strawberry growers.

Delegates told the convention the importing of fruits from the United States threatened the existence of the entire fruit industry in Canada.

"Over 6,000 farmers earn their livelihood from small fruits in British Columbia," said one delegate. "The industry gives employment to about 20,000 persons."

Delegates felt that the industry deserved some measure of stability.

Presbyterian Elder's Funeral Today

Funeral services for a long-time member of Gorge Presbyterian Church, a man who served as an elder and member of the Presbytery, Alexander R. Christison, were held today.

Rev. T. H. McAllister officiated at the service in McCall's chapel. Cremation followed.

The former resident of Regina had lived here since 1941.

His wife and two sons, Victor and Robert, survive him here. Two daughters, Mrs. Jean Sturkin and Mrs. Betty Johnson, live in San Francisco and Edmonton. His youngest son, George, was killed serving in France with a parachute battalion in 1944.

Subscriptions Swell Fund For Fire-Stricken Family

A fund to help rehabilitate the burned-out family of PO Cyril Davies and Mrs. Davies at Belmont Park has reached $376 in cash.

The Davies lost their four-year-old son, Morley, in a fire that completely gutted their half of a duplex on the night of Jan. 11.

Kenneth W. King, store owner at the Colwood park and manager of the fund, reported today that the Davies family is now established in a new home.

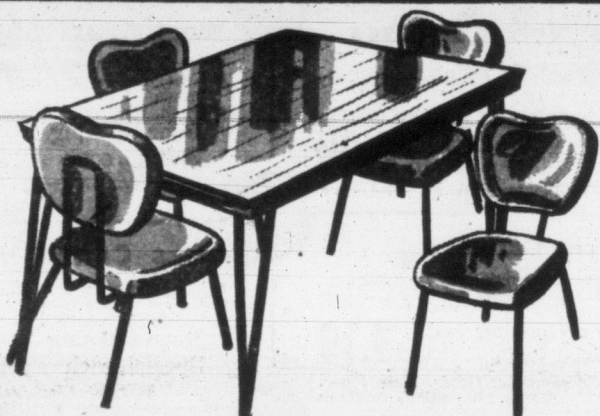

In addition to cash, they received clothing and furniture from a sympathetic public. At present there is $326 in the bank, Mr. King said, also $50 to be picked up from the Oddfellows office, 1315 1/2 Douglas. He said that another $174 has been pledged and reported that additional donations will be accepted at his store or at the Oddfellows hall.

$5 PER COPY

In Nassau, N.H., Theophile Belair was fined $5 for stealing a five-cent newspaper. Belair told the Municipal Court he took the paper from a newsstand because he wanted to read the story of a holdup.

Stock Trains Speed to Beat Strike

EDMONTON (CP)—Special trains are rushing livestock and processed meats from Edmonton to the Pacific Coast because of the possibility of a railway tie-up starting Monday.

Two freight trains, one of which had 40 cars of livestock, left Edmonton Wednesday night for British Columbia and another was scheduled to leave tonight.

No Increase in Price of Butter

OTTAWA (CP)—Robert McCubbin, parliamentary assistant to Agriculture Minister Gardiner, said today consumers "can rest assured" that the price of butter will not be increased as the result of a recent "freeze order" on selling of government butter stocks.

Mr. McCubbin indicated the order was issued to permit stock taking. He estimated the government is holding 30,000,000 pounds of butter.

3 Top U.S. Generals in Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—Three top U.S. generals arrived in Tokyo today for strategy talks on the Korean war.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, chief of staff, and Lieut. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, commander-designate of the Eighth Army, flew in for conferences with Gen. Mark Clark, Far East commander.

The meeting came amid continuing speculation that the war soon will take a new turn—either in a full-scale Allied offensive or in greater direct pressure against the Chinese Communist mainland.

Claxton Keeps Secret of Radar Net

OTTAWA (CP)—Defense Minister Brook Claxton said today, after consultations with the United States government, that no details will be given in Parliament about the U.S.-Canadian radar network—"Operation Pinetree"—because it could help a potential enemy.

He said answers could only help a potential enemy and was promptly criticized by Gordon Graydon (PC, Peel) for giving away secrets himself because he identified "Operation Pinetree" as being the radar program.

Three Canadians in Casualty List

OTTAWA (CP)—A Korean casualty list today included three men of the Royal Canadian Regiment wounded in action. (None was from B.C.)

RAIL WAGE TALKS RESUME TONIGHT

OTTAWA (CP)—Railway union heads conferred for 11½ hours today in resumed negotiations launched by the government and then adjourned until 8 p.m., EST, tonight for further talks.

Spokesmen for the railways and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which has called a strike for Monday, gave no indication of the trend of their new discussions when they rose at about 4:30 p.m.

"No comment," said Donald Gordon, president of Canadian National Railways.

"There's no use complicating things by commenting now," J. Kelly, Canadian head of the BRT, said to newspaper men.

The afternoon meeting developed from the overnight summoning of the negotiators to the capital from Montreal, where their discussions had bogged down in the last few days with the strike deadline near.

Separate conferences between Prime Minister St. Laurent and key ministers with company and union officials set up the new session earlier today.

No government representatives attended the afternoon meeting, which consisted of straight negotiation between the disputants.

FLARE COULD BE FROM 1 OF 3 LOST PLANES

Second Blaze In Two Days

Scotland Yard Intensifies Dockside Investigations

From CP and UP Dispatches

A second fire broke out aboard the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth today and firemen investigating the first blaze moved quickly to bring it under control.

The new blaze broke out in rags and other materials in a cabin on C-deck on the port side. There was no immediate explanation of the source of the fire.

The alarm bells clanged through the big liner. Fire crews put the blaze out after a table in the cabin was damaged.

Investigations by Scotland Yard already concerned with Wednesday's mysterious blaze were promptly intensified. Sabotage is suspected.

All workmen going ashore are being asked by police if they had been on C-deck and whether they had noticed anything suspicious.

Workmen are under orders, not to smoke aboard ship.

Meanwhile, Southampton's chief constable Charles Box, investigating the Wednesday fire, said: "It might have been accidental, it might have been wilful."

Reporting the fire, the British press suggested sabotage.

WOOD EXAMINED

Scotland Yard sent a specialist to examine charred wood which had been carefully preserved after the fire.

The 87,673-ton Cunard liner is in drydock, undergoing her annual refit before resuming transatlantic service to New York February 11.

The investigation into the fire coincides with inquiries now under way into the fire destruction last weekend in Liverpool of the Canadian Pacific Steamships liner, Empress of Canada.

Firefighters swarmed aboard the Elizabeth at the fire alarm Wednesday evening. The blaze was declared under control a half-hour after the firemen arrived.

Only about 50 workmen were aboard the ship when the fire broke out.

At Liverpool today the last gutting flame died out in the blackened hull of the fire-gutted liner Empress of Canada.

The 21,000-ton, transatlantic vessel caught fire at her dock Sunday and heeled over from the water firemen poured into her.

Speculative Fever Cools Slightly

TORONTO (CP)—Speculative fever on the stock market cooled slightly today, but trading was still far from normal. Volume at the close stood at 10,122,000 shares, compared with Wednesday's total of 12,264,000 shares. Trading today was rapid but not record-breaking.

Ocean Queen Drydocked Here

Britain's biggest liner is remembered by many Victorians from her drydocking visit here in December, 1944, while she was troop-carrying in the Pacific war theatre. When she was drydocked here, the Elizabeth practically filled the Esquimalt graving basin, one of the largest in the world. She had to wait for a high spring tide and dead calm before she could attempt drydock entry. As it was she parted heavy hausers like strings as she was warped through the gates. Such is her displacement that little water was left in the drydock when the gates were closed and pumping commenced.

SENDER OF TRACT ON JEWRY NAMED

Duncan Mayor Says Pamphleteer Prominent Member of Socred Party

DUNCAN—Mayor J. C. Wragg has named "Col. Codville" as the man responsible for sending an anti-Semitic pamphlet to members of the British House of Commons that caused an uproar in the House and drew the ire of Home Secretary David Fife.

The Times today spoke to Li-Col. F. H. M. Codville, Maple Bay Road, who would neither confirm nor deny any connection with the pamphlet.

"I have no information to give," he said. "I have been away for several weeks."

Mayor Wragg described the author of the pamphlet as "a prominent member of the Social Credit party."

RESENTFUL

H. B. Matthews, president of the Social Credit Cowichan-Newcastle Constituency Association, said he resented the Social Credit party being connected with the pamphlet.

"I know nothing about the pamphlet," Mr. Matthews said today, "and I do not know who wrote it. Col. Codville is a member of the association but not an official, and, if he wrote it, we have no control whatsoever over his actions. What he does as a private citizen has no connection with the Social Credit party, and we want to be dissociated from any responsibility for this pamphlet or for the action of the author."

The pamphlet was not signed, and was headed "Plans for the Synagogue of Satan."

Vancouver Stocks

Stocks finished strong in the final session at Vancouver, Exchange today.

Rix Athabaska was an active feature, trading at $2.20, up 7c; Beaver Lodge gained 5 to $1.42; Estella 80c; Yankee Princess $1.09; New Continental $1.39, and Coast Breweries $3.40.

Canadian Western Lumber sold at $9½.

B.C. Coast Scoured As 23 Persons Lost

From CP and UP Dispatches

The first report of possible flares or light signals received in the search for an Air Force Dakota missing with seven men aboard was under investigation today.

The report was received by trial and northern British Columbia authorities at Abbotsford from a Mr. Carlson living in Glen Valley, north of Haney. The report passed the information along to the air force which sent a search plane to the district, 30 miles east of Vancouver.

Ten RCAF planes searched for the Dakota and four Central B.C. Airways planes took off from Butedale to search the waters surrounding Princess Royal Island.

Weather and visibility was reported fair to good in the search areas.

Carlson said he saw "flashes of light" that could have been flares or other signals coming from nearby Mount Blanchard. A total of fourteen planes were in the hunt today, in central and northern British Columbia for the missing RCAF Dakota and in the search for survivors or bodies from the Central B.C. Airways seaplane lost near Butedale.

23 Missing in Three Coastal Plane Crashes

Pilot of Plane to Kemano Swims
To Safety; Body, Mail Bag Found

VANCOUVER (CP)—Twenty-three persons may have died in a series of plane crashes in British Columbia and the adjacent State of Washington.

Three planes have been reported missing in a 24-hour period starting Tuesday. Wilderness and sea have surrendered proof of one death and 22 persons are unaccounted for. One is known to have survived.

James Siddle, a 38-year-old bush pilot, flying a Grumman to Kemano, Wednesday, made a successful forced landing in the Pacific Ocean, just 200 yards from the northern B.C. coast. With his six passengers, the pilot struck out for shore, but only he is known to have reached safety. Search parties have found one body and a sack of mail.

Aboard the Grumman were: Frank Carlisle and Bob Watson, officials of the Plumbers and Steamfitters' Union; Paul Kushner, Michael Fedyk, E. A. Copley, Gustav Olsen.

Still unreported are an RCAF Dakota carrying seven men and a United States Navy patrol plane with 10 aboard.

The RCAF plane disappeared on a training flight through desolate country north of Vancouver to remote Puntzi Lake, 216 miles away.

The U.S. craft vanished over Puget Sound on a flight from Alameda, Calif., to Whidbey Island, Wash., 50 miles north of Seattle. Both military craft were last heard from Wednesday.

Listed as being aboard the RCAF Dakota were:

FO: Al Duncan, Hyas, Sask., pilot.

FO: A. Turenne, Vancouver, co-pilot.

FO: W. L. MacKenzie, navigator, Galt, Ont.

FO: J. A. Pollock, Noranda, Que.

FO: Couchman, Vancouver; Cpl. S. C. Herman, Vancouver; Army Cpl. G. F. Vickers, Vancouver.

(Couchman and Vickers were passengers aboard the plane.)

U.S. Plane Lost Over Puget Sound

Meanwhile in Seattle search continued today for a US Navy P-47 patrol plane which vanished Wednesday over the Puget Sound country of Western Washington while on a flight from Alameda, Calif., to Whidbey Island naval air station.

Aboard the plane was Capt. Julian D. Greer, commander of Fleet Air Wing 6, stationed at the Alameda naval air station.

The plane was last heard from at 12:48 p.m. Wednesday when it received clearance for an instrument landing at Whidbey. The pilot gave his altitude then as 5,000 feet and his location as over McChord air force base, 35 miles south of here.

The public information office at Alameda said Capt. Greer, a veteran Navy aviator, was en route to Whidbey on a special mission. The nature of the mission was not disclosed.

Siddle, pilot of the Grumman, was found and taken to hospital at the northern B.C. fishing village of Butedale 20 hours after he brought down his Central British Columbia Airways amphibian in a heavy storm.

The pilot was flying two union officials and four workers to the Aluminum Company of Canada plant at Kemano.

He said the plane slashed in to a submerged log but remained afloat for 2½ hours. When the craft began to sink, all seven donned lifebelts and struck out for shore.

Another CBCA pilot, sighted Siddle after he crawled ashore at Fraser Beach, 270 miles north of Vancouver. There was no sign of his passengers.

Disappearance of the two military planes brings to 12 the number of military aircraft missing or known to have crashed in a recent series of aerial disasters along the North Pacific rim.

A total of 298 persons were killed or are missing in the 10 previous mishaps. The most recent major plane crash in B.C. occurred Nov. 24, when eight men died in an RCAF Lancaster bomber near Comox.

Another Liberal member was expelled from the chamber for the remainder of the evening sitting when he was "named" by the Speaker for making remarks from his seat while the Speaker was making a ruling.

The ejected member was Emilien Lafrance, member for Richmond, and it was Rene Hamel, member for St. Maurice, who made the "bloodshed" statement that stirred the chamber.

Mr. Hamel said he hoped no such thing would happen but if electors realize they are being "tricked" and all legal means have been used to stop illegality then there would be no other recourse but the "use of violence."

Premier Duplessis shouted from his seat that the statement was "boishevistic."

There were indications that both western Europe and the Far East would be discussed.

Secretary of State Dulles and Harold Stassen leave tomorrow for a 10-day tour of western Europe. Their itinerary calls for meetings in Italy, France, Britain, western Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate agricultural committee heard testimony today that huge quantities of imported Canadian wheat labelled "unfit for human consumption" are being milled into flour in the United States to compete with high-grade U.S. wheat.

The testimony came from Frank Weitzel, assistant to the comptroller general, who was called to the hearing of accusations that the influx of Canadian wheat has depressed U.S. prices.

Chairman Weitzel estimated that 40,000,000 bushels of frost damaged wheat were imported in 1952.

Both British authorities and UN officials said they knew nothing about Alain.

Alain said the slave trade worked like this:

Armed, whip-swinging raiders swoop down on native villages isolated around the fringes of the Sahara and in the central African jungles. Those captured are chained together and marched by secret trails to hidden "slave caves" on the Red Sea where they are loaded on rickety ships and taken to Saudi Arabia for distribution.

NEW SESSION BREAKS OLD PROCEDURES

The Social Credit government will depart from tradition in its choice of a mover and seconder to the Speech from the Throne at this year's Legislature session.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today Education Minister Mrs. Tilly Rolston, "the first and only full-fledged woman cabinet minister in Canada," will move the address in reply to the Throne Speech to be delivered Tuesday by Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace.

Second will be Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan, he said.

Asked if this was an unusual procedure, the premier replied: "This is an unusual government and it will be an unusual session."

Usual practice is for private members to be chosen as mover and seconder.

These two speeches, made the day after the Throne Speech, are significant because they indicate government policy.

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent today declined to tell the Commons whether the government is considering use of its emergency powers to halt a Monday rail strike if company-union negotiations fail.

OTTAWA (CP)—A new conference between the railways and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which has called a strike for Monday, was arranged for later this afternoon at meetings between the disputants and cabinet ministers.

Prime Minister St. Laurent announced the resumption of negotiations after individual meetings with union and company heads who had been stalled overnight when discussions bogged down at Montreal.

The prime minister said the new meeting is being held at the suggestion of the ministers, but he declined to give any details of the three-hour sessions.

PREMIER SILENT

Asked if the government had made any suggestions to the parties on settlement terms, the prime minister said the government "has had nothing to say to them in this respect."

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower assembled his top military, foreign affairs and intelligence officers today for a full-dress review of the foreign situation and a discussion of cold war strategy.

There were indications that both western Europe and the Far East would be discussed.

Secretary of State Dulles and Harold Stassen leave tomorrow for a 10-day tour of western Europe. Their itinerary calls for meetings in Italy, France, Britain, western Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Alain said the slave trade worked like this:

Armed, whip-swinging raiders swoop down on native villages isolated around the fringes of the Sahara and in the central African jungles. Those captured are chained together and marched by secret trails to hidden "slave caves" on the Red Sea where they are loaded on rickety ships and taken to Saudi Arabia for distribution.

Both British authorities and UN officials said they knew nothing about Alain.

Railways, Union Meeting Again To Avert Strike

Disputants Respond To Cabinet's Plea

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent today declined to tell the Commons whether the government is considering use of its emergency powers to halt a Monday rail strike if company-union negotiations fail.

OTTAWA (CP)—A new conference between the railways and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which has called a strike for Monday, was arranged for later this afternoon at meetings between the disputants and cabinet ministers.

Prime Minister St. Laurent announced the resumption of negotiations after individual meetings with union and company heads who had been stalled overnight when discussions bogged down at Montreal.

The prime minister said the new meeting is being held at the suggestion of the ministers, but he declined to give any details of the three-hour sessions.

PREMIER SILENT

Asked if the government had made any suggestions to the parties on settlement terms, the prime minister said the government "has had nothing to say to them in this respect."

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower assembled his top military, foreign affairs and intelligence officers today for a full-dress review of the foreign situation and a discussion of cold war strategy.

There were indications that both western Europe and the Far East would be discussed.

Secretary of State Dulles and Harold Stassen leave tomorrow for a 10-day tour of western Europe. Their itinerary calls for meetings in Italy, France, Britain, western Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate agricultural committee heard testimony today that huge quantities of imported Canadian wheat labelled "unfit for human consumption" are being milled into flour in the United States to compete with high-grade U.S. wheat.

The testimony came from Frank Weitzel, assistant to the comptroller general, who was called to the hearing of accusations that the influx of Canadian wheat has depressed U.S. prices.

Chairman Weitzel estimated that 40,000,000 bushels of frost damaged wheat were imported in 1952.
